30,000 Acres Of Corn And Wheat In Illinois Flooded By Rampaging Mississippi

The surging Mississippi River, on a wild spring rampage along a wide stretch in western Illinois, pounded through major levees north of Quincy today, inundating thousands of acres of fertile farmlands.

It was the first major break in the protective wall near Meyer, Ill., about 25 miles north of Quincy, and sent mountains of water cascading across an estimated 30,000 acres of corn and wheatland.

Further major flooding downstream threatened, authorities said, but temporary relief was indicated, due to the levee break near Meyer.

6 Feet Over Flooding

The Mississippi climbed to 24.02 feet at Quincy, more than 6 feet over flood stage and one of the highest on record. However, no major flooding was expected in the city of 42,000 which is situated on high ground.

National Guardsmen, college students and other volunteer workers lost their round-the-clock battle in attempts to halt the mile-wide Mississippi from flooding the levees at the Joe Caldwell farm six miles north of Meyer. About 2,000 persons living in Meyer and Warsaw, Ill., and Canton and Alexandria, Mo., had been evacuated Sunday.

Miss Edna Albert Found Dead By Friend Sunday; Had Fallen Off Porch

Miss Edna Albert, 81, author and well known in the county for her activities in the WCTU and YWCA, was found dead Sunday morning at 8 o'clock at her home in Latimore Twp., Gardners R. 1.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death was caused by a broken neck and fractured skull caused in a fall from an 18-foot high porch roof to the ground where she struck a flagstone.

The body was found by Mrs. John Peters, Gardners R. D., who had gone to Miss Albert's home to drive her to services at the Chestnut Grove Lutheran Church, about three miles away, of which she had been a member for many years.

Dr. Crist set the time of death at 6 o'clock.

Suspect Fright

Those called to the home found the doors locked and a chair was placed blocking her bedroom door. Marks on the windowsill of her bedroom indicated that she had crawled out of that window to the porch roof. She was found with a cane in her hand. It was surmised she may have been frightened by some noise in the house and went out on the roof, then frightened and confused had fallen to the ground.

In good health physically, she had walked a mile or two nearly every day visiting friends in the area. She had walked to the Chestnut Grove church several weeks ago.

She was a daughter of the late Franklin Albert, who had been a teacher at the Millersville school, and Hannah Mauger Albert. She had been raised in the Millersville area. Her mother died when Miss Albert was three years old and she had resided with her father until his death in 1931. She lived in a house near Gardners which had been the home of her grandparents.

A native of Millersville, Lancaster County, Miss Albert was graduated from the Millersville State Normal School and then attended Dickinson College where she graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors in 1905.

She was a member of the Adams County Historical Society and of the county WCTU.

She was the author of "Little Pilgrims in Penn's Woods," a best seller and Book-of-the-Month selection for children's libraries several decades ago.

Services Thursday

She was for many years an active member and for a long time a Sunday School teacher in the Chestnut Grove Lutheran Church.

Surviving are a brother, Frank, and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Gold, both of Los Angeles.

Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Pitten-turf Funeral Home in York Springs with her pastor, the Rev. Norman L. Bortner, officiating. Interment in the Chestnut Grove Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Mr. Deas, who has been with the American Can Co. since 1951, was a former research secretary for Justice Earl Warren when he was governor of California. He is a former president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of California. He resides at Riverside, Conn.

STOCKS IRREGULAR

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market resumed its desultory course in quiet trading early this afternoon.

The market was irregular with a slightly lower tendency.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional. Here and there was a move of a point or so either way.

Selected chemicals and electronics made some progress. Steel, motors, rails, nonferrous metals, tobacco and drugs were mixed. Oils edged off.

WINDOW SMASHED

Bernard Murray, manager of the Diorama, notified borough police Sunday morning that someone had thrown a rock through a window at the former Dobbin House on Steinwehr Ave. during the night.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Gene Napolio, a student at Mt. St. Mary's College, was treated at the Warner Hospital Saturday for a laceration of the left forehead.

DR. A. C. MYERS DIES AT 86; ADAMS NATIVE

Dr. Albert Cook Myers, 86, York Springs native who was widely known as a historian and was regarded as an international authority on William Penn, died Friday at Pocompoc Home, West Chester. He was a former resident of Moylan, Delaware County.

Dr. Myers was a son of the late John and Sarah Myers of Moylan. He graduated from Martin Academy, Kennett Square and Swarthmore College. He later did graduate work at the Universities of Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Harvard.

State Historical Aid
He was a former secretary of the Pennsylvania State Historical Commission and superintendent of historical exhibits at the Jamestown Exposition in 1907.

Dr. Myers was a member of the Philadelphia Mayor's Historical Commission, of the Pennsylvania Commission on school history text books and of the Mayor's Sesqui-centennial in Philadelphia in 1952.

Valley Forge Official
He was a member of the Valley Forge Park Commission for 13 years and in 1932 directed William Penn Commemoration in the State and edited the complete works of Penn.

He was past president of England and Pennsylvania Federation of Historical Societies. During the First World War he served as an officer of the war camp community service in Philadelphia. He also was an author of a number of biographical and historical works.

His memberships included the Society of Friends, Bushy Run Battlefield Committee, and Delaware, Chester and York County historical societies.

Services Tuesday
Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Edith Duman, of Harrisburg.

There are also a number of nieces and nephews and a number of cousins residing in Adams County.

Graveside services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Providence Meeting House, near Media, with memorial services following. In lieu of flowers contributions may be sent to Dr. Albert Cook Myers Fund of Chester County Historical Society, West Chester.

Sheep Shearing School Next Week

A two-day sheep shearing school will be held in York County next Monday and Tuesday. County Agent Frank S. Zettie announced today.

Persons interested in learning to shear sheep are asked to make their reservations early with the county agricultural extension office in the court house. Each enrollee is asked to enroll for full two-day period, Zettie said. Enrollments will be accepted on a first-come first-served basis. Enrollment will be closed at 16.

All equipment will be furnished. However, should the individual prefer to use his own shears, he will be permitted to do so. The school will run from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. or until the job is finished on the second day.

Hospital Report

Water St.

Further major flooding downstream threatened, authorities said, but temporary relief was indicated, due to the levee break, near Meyer.

6 Feet Over Flooding
The Mississippi climbed to 24.02 feet at Quincy, more than 6 feet over flood stage and one of the highest on record. However, no major flooding was expected in the city of 42,000 which is situated on high ground.

National Guardsmen, college students and other volunteer workers lost their round-the-clock battle in attempts to halt the mile-wide Mississippi from flooding the levees at the Joe Caldwell farm six miles north of Meyer. About 2,000 persons living in Meyer and Warsaw, Ill., and Canton and Alexandria, Mo., had been evacuated Sunday.

The break-through came as thousands of other flood fighters on the Illinois-Missouri sides of the Mississippi battled to halt overflows from Keokuk, in southwest Iowa, to Louisiana, Mo.

Other rivers and streams in a half dozen other Midwest states were causing trouble after more than a week of flooding, but the worst appeared over in hard-hit Nebraska.

Another Deer Is Killed Saturday

Another deer was killed Saturday evening on the Emmitsburg Rd., near W. Confederate Ave.

William Furney, Gettysburg R. 2, reported at 8 o'clock Saturday night to Justice of the Peace John Whitman, who resides nearby that a car ahead of him had struck a doe as it crossed the Emmitsburg Rd. but failed to stop. The doe was hurled to the berm of the highway. Justice Whitman notified Deputy Game Warden Paul Bretzman.

COUPLE IS WED SATURDAY AT CHRIST CHURCH

Miss Shirley Ann Showvaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Showvaker, Littlestown R. 1, and Fred Allen Hahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Hahn, Littlestown R. 2, were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Christ United Church of Christ, near Littlestown. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Keons, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the couple.

Fred A. Warner, church organist, played the traditional wedding marches and presented a 15-minute recital prior to the ceremony, which included "O Perfect Love," "Because," "Always," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer." The church altar was decorated with bouquets of white lilies and potted palms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace over tulle. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline edged with sequins, and long lace sleeves that ended in points over the hands. The skirt was worn over a hoop and was accented with three panels.

30,000 Acres Of Corn And Wheat In Illinois Flooded By Rampaging Mississippi

The surging Mississippi River, on a wild spring rampage along a wide stretch in western Illinois, pounded through major levees north of Quincy today, inundating thousands of acres of fertile farmlands.

It was the first major break in the protective wall near Meyer, Ill., about 25 miles north of Quincy, and sent mountains of water cascading across an estimated 30,000 acres of corn and wheatland.

Further major flooding downstream threatened, authorities said, but temporary relief was indicated, due to the levee break, near Meyer.

MISS TIMMINS IS BRIDE OF W. T. HARTMAN

Miss Patricia Verne Timmins, daughter of William T. Timmins Sr., 222 Buford Ave., and Waldo Theodore Hartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Stanley Hartman, R. 3, were married Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in St. James Lutheran Church. Rev. John S. Bishop, the assistant pastor, officiated.

The bride wore a grey and white walking suit with white accessories, and a corsage of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Marilyn Ann Culp, Hanover St., was the maid of honor. She wore a green walking suit with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Jack W. Kunkel, S. Howard St., was the best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride. The couple then left for a wedding trip to an unannounced destination. Upon their return they will reside at Gettysburg R. 3.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg High School in the class of 1959 and is employed as a secretary at the Town and Country Gas Service.

The groom is a graduate of Gettysburg High School in the class of 1956 and is a senior at Gettysburg College. Upon graduation he will join the staff of the Raul Supply Co., Lancaster.

H. W. LIGHTER EXPIRES TODAY

Harry William Lightner, 80, a lifelong resident of Hamiltonban Township, Fairfield R. 1, died at 7:15 o'clock this morning at his home following a long illness.

He was a sawmill operator and owner of a general store at Mt. Hope. He was a member of Mt. Hope EUB Church and directed the choir for many years. He was the son of the late Oliver and Margaret Shindedecker Lightner.

He is survived by his wife, Effie Sites Lightner; a son, Luther Lightner, Randallstown, Md.; and a daughter, LeAnna Lightner, at home; seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. He is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: John Lightner, Mahaffey; Maurice Lightner, R. 3, and Mrs. Bessie Bennett, Mrs. John Kump and Mrs. George Kint, all of Fairfield R. 1.

Kenneth Young, fruitgrower from Erie County, will speak on roadside stand operation and his experiences with permitting customers to "pick their own fruit."

John Pepper, extension insect specialist; Carlton Taylor, extension disease specialist, and John Ruef, extension fruit specialist, will be other speakers.

Plans will be discussed for the annual Apple Blossom Sunday in May.

COLLEGE BAND PLAYS TWICE IN JERSEY TODAY

The Gettysburg College concert band will present six concerts this week including two in New Jersey, according to an announcement today by Prof. E. Douglas Danfelt, director.

The forty-piece ensemble played two concerts this afternoon at assembly programs in the Dallas-town Junior and Senior High Schools.

The band will play in Haddon Heights, N. J., High School Wednesday evening at a public concert, Thursday morning for Haddon Heights students and in the afternoon at Merchantville, N. J., high school.

2 Concerts Friday
The band will play at the Founder's Day convocation on the campus at 11 a.m. Friday and a public concert at 8 p.m. in the Student Union auditorium at the college.

Miss Ann Holcombe, York harpist and a senior at the college, will be featured with the band. She is a member of the York Symphony orchestra and a former student of Salzedo.

A brass sextet will also perform. William Fitzkee, student director from Mt. Wolf (Pa.), will direct the band in a march.

Featured composition on the program will be six selections from Moussorgsky's, "Pictures at an Exhibition."

Richard Krayer, a member of the band and a graduate of Haddon Heights High School, arranged the concerts there.

STUDENTS VISIT FIELD

Dr. Harry Pfantz, national park historian, Saturday conducted 30 history students of the Mars Hill Junior College, Asheville, N. C., over the battlefield here. The group is completing a tour of national parks. From here the students went to Anietam and Harpers Ferry on their return to the school.

Miss Edna Albert Found Dead By Friend Sunday; Had Fallen Off Porch

Miss Edna Albert, 81, author and well known in the county for her activities in the WCTU and YWCA, was found dead Sunday morning at 8 o'clock at her home in Latimore Twp., Gardners R. 1.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death was caused by a broken neck and fractured skull caused in a fall from an 18-foot high porch roof to the ground where she struck a flagstone.

The body was found by Mrs. John Peters, Gardners R. D., who had gone to Miss Albert's home to drive her to services at the Chestnut Grove Lutheran Church, about three miles away, of which she had been a member for many years.

Dr. Crist set the time of death at 6 o'clock.

Suspect Fright

Those called to the home found the doors locked and a chair was placed blocking her bedroom door. Marks on the window sill of her bedroom indicated that she had crawled out of that window to the porch roof. She was found with a cane in her hand. It was surmised she may have been frightened by some noise in the house and went out on the roof, then frightened and confused had fallen to the ground.

In good health physically, she had walked a mile or two nearly every day visiting friends in the area. She had walked to the Chestnut Grove church several weeks ago.

She was a daughter of the late Franklin Albert, who had been a teacher at the Millersville school, and Hannah Mauger Albert. She had been raised in the Millersville area. Her mother died when Miss Albert was three years old and she had resided with her father until his death in 1931. She lived in a house near Gardners which had been the home of her grandparents.

A native of Millersville, Lancaster County, Miss Albert was graduated from the Millersville State Normal School and then attended Dickinson College where she graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors in 1905.

She was a member of the Adams County Historical Society and of the county WCTU.

She was the author of "Little Pilgrims in Penn's Woods," a best seller and Book-of-the-Month selection for children's libraries several decades ago.

Services Thursday
She was for many years an active member and for a long time a Sunday School teacher in the Chestnut Grove Lutheran Church.

PREACHER AND WIFE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH AT CAMP HILL

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A prominent clergyman who unsuccessfully ran for the U.S. Senate on the Republican ticket in 1950, his wife and their pilot were killed Sunday night when their light plane crashed in a parking lot in suburban Camp Hill.

The twin-engine Aero-Commander narrowly missed a group of homes and busy U.S. Route 15 crowded with weekend travelers.

Killed were the Rev. Dr. William H. Alexander, 45, pastor of the First Christian Church of Oklahoma City, Okla.; his wife, Mary Louise, about 36, and the pilot, M. S. Shuman, of Enid, Okla.

Ex-GOP Chaplain

Dr. Alexander served as national chaplain for the Republican Party when President Eisenhower was elected for the first time in 1952. He became close friends with the president.

The group was en route to nearby Hershey, Pa., where Dr. Alexander was to have delivered the main address at Sunday night's opening session of the Pennsylvania Assn. of Chief School Administrators conference. He was a noted national speaker.

A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman said Shuman was cleared for a landing at the Harrisburg-York State Airport seven minutes before the crash. Shuman gave no indication he was in trouble despite a heavy rainstorm which limited visibility, the spokesman said.

Start Investigation

Aviation officials began an immediate investigation into the cause.

The plane also just narrowly missed several trucks parked in the lot where it crashed.

L. V. Holland, a night watchman at the Irwin Dairy Co., said he heard the plane's engines roaring overhead. "I thought it was buzzing the building," he said.

Other witnesses said the plane could be heard circling the area for a short time before it crashed.

Rain Avoided Fire

One engine was tossed 40 feet from the wreckage.

Shuman and Mrs. Alexander were thrown from the plane but Dr. Alexander was trapped for about an hour before rescue crews could remove him from the wreckage.

State police said the rain probably prevented a fire.

30,000 Acres

said 20,000 persons have been affected by the overflows. Damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Others Cause Trouble

The Big Sioux River in South Dakota and the Skunk in Iowa were causing trouble. The big Missouri River continued its slow climb in northwest Missouri and northeast Kansas.

The Big Sioux flooded thousands of acres from Elk Point, S.D., to Sioux City, Iowa, forcing some 700 persons to leave their homes in North Sioux City, S.D. The Skunk River continued to threaten weakened dikes near Burlington, in southeast Iowa.

The Missouri spilled over U.S. 36 about 7 miles west of St. Joseph, Mo., and at Elwood, Kan., across the swollen river, residents in the outskirts started sandbagging operations. Plans were made to evacuate Corning, Mo., a town of 200, virtually surrounded by high water.

The historic Liberty Bell, in Philadelphia's Independence Hall, weighs 2,080 pounds.

els of tulle ruffling. She had a crown of seed pearls and sequins from which fell her fingertip-length veil of illusion. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible, topped with an arrangement of lilies-of-the-valley.

Attended By Sister

Mrs. Travis J. Harner, New Oxford, was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a ballerina-length gown of pastel blue chiffon with a Chantilly lace jacket. She had a matching headband with face veil. Her bouquet was of white and blue carnations.

The bridegroom chose for his best man, his brother, Ray L. Hahn, Hanover. Serving as ushers were Earl H. Teal and Donald H. Leppo, both of Hanover, brothers-in-law of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a spring green sheath dress with matching accessories and a white rosebud corsage. The groom's mother wore a navy sheath dress with matching accessories and a pink rosebud corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the social room of the Littlestown Eagles Home. Approximately 200 wedding guests were in attendance from Hagerstown, Carlisle, Newville, Gettysburg, Hanover and Littlestown.

To Reside In Littlestown

The newlyweds left on a week's honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains. The bride chose a light blue wool suit with fur collar and black patent accessories, for traveling. She had a corsage of lilies-of-the-valley. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Hahn will reside at 141 Lumber St., Littlestown.

The bride was graduated from the Littlestown High School with the class of 1959 and is employed by the Littlestown Five and Ten Cent Store.

The groom graduated in 1959 from Littlestown High School and served six months in the Marine Reserve. He is employed by Chisholm-Ryder Company of Pennsylvania in Hanover.

CAMPAINING HITS CLIMAX IN WISCONSIN

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Campaigning comes to a climax in Wisconsin today and the state is a political sphinx on the eve of its crucial presidential primary election.

Upwards of a million voters, and possibly more, go to the polls Tuesday.

They allocate delegate votes to the nominating conventions of both major political parties. But far more important is the potential psychological effect of the balloting on the outlook for the two Democratic rivals, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Kennedy Cautious

With good reason, Wisconsin has come to be known as "the graveyard of candidates."

An air of caution pervades Kennedy's camp. His supporters have sharply tempered the exuberant predictions they were making earlier in the campaign.

Vice versa, Humphrey looks and acts more confident than he did a few weeks ago. "I believe we will obtain a majority of the delegates," he said. "And I would consider that a substantial victory."

A recent poll in Wisconsin indicated that Humphrey has gained on Kennedy, although Kennedy is still the front runner.

This seemed to check with findings by two of Kennedy's professional aides.

One took samplings in Milwaukee Sunday. He said he found an edge for Kennedy. But his tabulation fell well below the two-to-one, or even three-to-one margin Kennedy is supposed to enjoy in the Milwaukee districts.

"What surprised me even more," he said, "was that about 22 per cent said they didn't know. I've never found that many still undecided 48 hours before an election."

The other Kennedy lieutenant, who has been concentrating on labor union voters, said he could not tell how these votes will go. The AFL-CIO leadership in the state is boosting Humphrey.

You hear much less talk today of a Kennedy "grand slam" — that is, that he will get the highest total vote, scoop up the delegates in all 10 congressional districts, and win all the at-large delegates. The total is 30, with the 31st already split between him and Humphrey.

FRANK T. HINES DIES ON SUNDAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, retired, who headed the government's veterans' affairs activities almost 22½ years—longer than any other man—died Sunday. He would have been 81 next Monday.

A son, Frank T. Hines Jr., today said his father had suffered a stroke nearly 10 years ago but continued some business activity until recently.

The general suffered a fall and entered the Mont Alto Veterans Administration Hospital here about two weeks ago, the son said.

The hospital listed the cause of death as bronchial pneumonia.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at Ft. Myer Chapel, in nearby Arlington, Va. Interment will follow in Arlington National Cemetery.

Hines is regarded as having been the first director of the Veterans Bureau. Its activities prior to his appointment in 1923 had been directed most of the time by as many as three men serving contemporaneously as it evolved from the World War I Bureau of War Risk Insurance into the Veterans Bureau.

The Gettysburg College-Villanova golf match, scheduled for today in Philadelphia, has been postponed until next Monday because of the wet condition of the course on which the Wildcats play their matches. The Bullets will now open their season at Lehigh on Friday.

TORONTO (AP)—American Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. and Joan Stuart, 22-year-old Toronto white singer, have called off their engagement. Miss Stuart said Davis "has a lot of debts to pay off and with all his commitments we decided that it just wouldn't work."

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The state Supreme Court has killed Louis J. Carter's plan to seek the Democratic nomination for state representative from Montgomery County.

In an opinion signed by Justice Herbert B. Cohen, the court Friday agreed with a lower court ruling that four signatures on Carter's nominating petition were improper. This left him three short of the 100 names required to get on the April 26 primary ballot.

The court said the filing of an additional set of names would "disrupt election proceedings."

THREE INJURED
IN HANOVER ST.
CRASH TODAY

Three persons were injured when two cars collided on Hanover St. at 12:45 o'clock this morning. Smoke, seen issuing from the wrecked cars, led to a call for the fire department.

Treated at the hospital following the crash was Lawrence R. Harbaugh, 243 N. Stratton St. Admitted to the hospital were Shane A. Starr, Gettysburg R. 1, and his wife, Ivory.

Borough police said both vehicles involved were demolished. They estimated the damage to Harbaugh's auto at $1,200 and to Starr's at $100.

Two To Be X-rayed

Harbaugh suffered lacerations of the chin, contusions of the left knee and arm and abrasions of the cheek and scalp. He was removed to the hospital in the borough police car.

Starr suffered a splitting of the lower lip and a front tooth was knocked loose, according to the police report. He was to be x-rayed this morning to determine possible further injury.

Mrs. Starr had a possible broken nose, a cut at the end of the nose and a cut on the chin. She also was scheduled for x-rays to determine the extent of her injuries. Mr. and Mrs. Starr were removed to the hospital in the borough ambulance.

According to police, the Starr automobile stopped at the scene of the crash but the Harbaugh auto was driven backwards across the sidewalk to an earth bank which it struck, then crossed the street and came to rest against a tree.

30,000 Acres Of Corn And Wheat In Illinois Flooded
By Rampaging Mississippi

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The surging Mississippi River, on a wild spring rampage along a wide stretch in western Illinois, pounded through major levees north of Quincy today, inundating thousands of acres of fertile farmlands.

It was the first major break in the protective wall near Meyer, Ill., about 25 miles north of Quincy, and sent mountains of water cascading across an estimated 30,000 acres of corn and wheatland.

Further major flooding downstream threatened, authorities said, but temporary relief was indicated, due to the levee break near Meyer.

6 Feet Over Flooding

The Mississippi climbed to 24.02 feet at Quincy, more than 6 feet over flood stage and one of the highest on record. However, no major flooding was expected in the city of 42,000 which is situated on high ground.

National Guardsmen, college students and other volunteer workers lost their round-the-clock battle in attempts to halt the mile-wide Mississippi from flooding the levees at the Joe Caldwell farm six miles north of Meyer. About 2,000 persons living in Meyer and Warsaw, Ill., and Canton and Alexandria, Mo., had been evacuated Sunday.

Hits 2 Other States

The break-through came as thousands of other flood fighters on the Illinois-Missouri sides of the Mississippi battled to halt overflows from Keokuk, in southwest Iowa, to Louisiana, Mo.

Other rivers and streams in a half dozen other Midwest states were causing trouble after more than a week of flooding, but the worst appeared over in hard-hit Nebraska.

The spring floods which also have hit Wisconsin, Kansas, Iowa, Michigan and South Dakota have driven thousands from their homes. The American Red Cross

Miss Edna Albert Found
Dead By Friend Sunday;
Had Fallen Off Porch

Miss Edna Albert, 81, author and well known in the county for her activities in the WCTU and YWCA, was found dead Sunday morning at 8 o'clock at her home in Latimore Twp., Gardeners R. 1.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death was caused by a broken neck and fractured skull caused in a fall from an 18-foot high porch roof to the ground where she struck a flagstone.

The body was found by Mrs. John Peters, Gardeners R. D., who had gone to Miss Albert's home to drive her to services at the Chestnut Grove Lutheran Church, about three miles away, of which she had been a member for many years.

Dr. Crist set the time of death at 6 o'clock.

Suspect Fright

Those called to the home found the doors locked and a chair was placed blocking her bedroom door. Marks on the windowsill of her bedroom indicated that she had crawled out of that window to the porch roof. She was found with a cane in her hand. It was surmised she may have been frightened by some noise in the house and went out on the roof, then frightened and confused had fallen to the ground.

In good health physically, she had walked a mile or two nearly every day visiting friends in the area. She had walked to the Chestnut Grove church several weeks ago.

She was a daughter of the late Franklin Albert, who had been a teacher at the Millersville school, and Hannah Mauger Albert. She had been raised in the Millersville area. Her mother died when Miss Albert was three years old and she had resided with her father until his death in 1931. She lived in a house near Gardeners which had been the home of her grandparents.

A native of Millersville, Lancaster County, Miss Albert was graduated from the Millersville State Normal School and then attended Dickinson College where she graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors in 1905.

She was a member of the Adams County Historical Society and of the county WCTU.

She was the author of "Little Pilgrims in Penn's Woods," a best seller and Book-of-the-Month selection for children's libraries several decades ago.

Services Thursday

She was for many years an active member and for a long time a Sunday School teacher in the Chestnut Grove Lutheran Church. Surviving are a brother, Frank, and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Gold, both of Los Angeles.

Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Pitten-turf Funeral Home in York Springs with her pastor, the Rev. Norman L. Bortner, officiating. Interment in the Chestnut Grove Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

FR. LYNCH IS CONDUCTING MISSION WEEK

The Rev. Fr. Basil Lynch, priest for the parish mission being conducted in St. Aloysius Catholic Church this week, A mission is defined as an extraordinary agency for bringing the knowledge of the doctrine and practices of the church before the minds of the people in a form that is both objective and instructive and is a period of special graces and blessings. Father Lynch spoke at the morning masses on Sunday, extending an invitation to all parishioners to make the mission and to bring their friends to the services.

The mission officially opened at the 7 o'clock evening service on Sunday when the missioner spoke on "Family Living." On Sunday afternoon, all preschool children and babies were present at a service arranged especially for them, when each was individually blessed and all were consecrated to the Blessed Mother. Special envelopes for the mission offering will be distributed during this week. Religious articles are on display in the parish hall and anyone desiring to obtain them may do so after 8:15 mass or before and after evening services all week. The article will be blessed by the missioner. Members of the Parish Council of Catholic Women are in charge of the mission stand.

There will be no religious instructions this evening. Instead, high school students and adults are expected to attend the mission service. Services during the week will begin at 7:30 p.m. Morning masses will be held daily at 5:30 and 8:15 a.m. Father Lynch will speak tonight on "Sin"; on Tuesday evening "Purity and Company Keeping"; Wednesday, "Marriage"; Thursday, "The Mercy of God"; Friday, "Discouraging Problems of Life"; Saturday "The Blessed Mother" and at the closing service at 3 p.m. Sunday, "The Blessed Sacrament." At the closing service, the Papal Blessing will be imparted and baptismal vows renewed. There will be a very short instruction period following the morning masses.

Students of the parish from Delone Catholic High School received their report cards from the pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle, following the masses on Sunday. The weekly public party on Saturday will begin after the mission service at 8:30 p.m. in the parish hall. Ronald Oaster is chairman of the committee in arrangements and Mrs. Joseph Rang is refreshment committee chairman.

Adenauer Says He And Ike Agree

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told West Germans tonight he and President Eisenhower found themselves fully united on all major issues to go before the summit conference next month.

Adenauer was reporting to the nation on a 'round-the-world trip. During his 10-minute address over nationwide radio and television bookups, the 84-year-old Chancellor told of getting a friendly reception from everyone he met in the United States.

"I was extraordinarily satisfied with the talks with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Herter and other leading American officials," he said.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An 18-year-old Marine took a hike Sunday—526 feet up the Golden Gate Bridge suspension cable.

Traffic was tied up for half an hour as motorists watched his precarious climb.

Pfc. Dan Edmund Smiley, from Salt Lake City Utah, and stationed at the nearby Concord Naval Ordnance Depot, said three buddies dared him to do it.

He was booked for a misdemeanor.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — John B. Stetson and Frank H. Lee Co. have increased the suggested retail price of their $15 men's hats to $15.95 for next fall. Hat Corp. of America took similar action earlier.

ADAMS SANITATION COMPANY

Adams County's newest garbage and refuse collection service combines the services of Paul L. Plank Sr., Paul L. Plank Jr., Robert N. Miller, John Waddell and Donald Waddell, to provide residents of Adams County communities with efficient and adequate collection service.

Officers and employees of Adams Sanitation Company pledge to operate the company so that it will be a credit to the community and to themselves.

RATES:

RESIDENTIAL:

PREACHER AND WIFE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH AT CAMP HILL

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A prominent clergyman who unsuccessfully ran for the U.S. Senate on the Republican ticket in 1950, his wife and their pilot were killed Sunday night when their light plane crashed in a parking lot in suburban Camp Hill.

The two-engine Aero-Commander, reportedly missed a group of homes and hit U.S. Route 15, crowded with weekend travelers.

Killed were the Rev. Dr. William H. Alexander, 45, pastor of the First Christian Church of Oklahoma City, Okla.; his wife, Mary Louise, about 36, and the pilot, M. S. Shuman, of Emid, Okla.

Dr. Alexander served as national chaplain for the Republican Party when President Eisenhower was elected for the first time in 1952. He became close friends with the president.

The group was en route to Hershey, Pa., where Dr. Alexander was to have delivered the main address at Sunday night's opening session of the Pennsylvania Assn. of Civil School Administrators conference. He was a noted national speaker.

A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman said Shuman was cleared for a landing at the Harrisburg-York State Airport seven minutes before the crash. Shuman gave no indication he was in trouble despite a heavy rainstorm which limited visibility, the spokesman said.

Start Investigation
Aviation officials began an immediate investigation into the cause.

The plane also just narrowly missed several trucks parked in the lot where it crashed.

L. V. Holland, a night watchman at the Irwin Dairy Co., said he heard the plane's engines roaring overhead. "I thought it was buzzing the building," he said.

Other witnesses said the plane could be heard circling the area for a short time before it crashed.

Rain Avoided Fire
One engine was tossed 40 feet from the wreckage.

Shuman and Mrs. Alexander were thrown from the plane but Dr. Alexander was trapped for about an hour before rescue crews could remove him from the wreckage.

State police said the rain probably prevented a fire.

Said 200 persons have been affected by the overflows. Damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Others Cause Trouble
The Big Sioux River in South Dakota and the Skunk in Iowa were causing trouble. The Big Missouri River continued its slow climb in northwest Missouri and northeast Kansas.

The Big Sioux flooded thousands of acres from Elk Point, S.D. to Sioux City, Iowa, forcing some 700 persons to leave their homes. In North Sioux City, S.D. the Skunk River continued to threaten weakened dikes near Burlington in southeast Iowa.

The Missouri spilled over U.S. 36 about 7 miles west of St. Joseph, Mo., and at Elwood, Kan., across the swollen river, residents in the outskirts started sandbagging operations. Plans were made to evacuate Corning, Mo., a town of 200, virtually surrounded by high water.

of tulle ruffling. She had a crown of seed pearls and sequins from which fell her fingertip-length veil of illusion. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a white Bible, topped with an arrangement of lilies-of-the-valley.

Attended By Sister
Mrs. Travis J. Harner, New Oxford, was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a ballerina-length gown of pastel blue chiffon with a Chantilly lace jacket. She had a matching headband with veil. Her bouquet was of white and blue carnations.

The bridegroom chose for his best man, his brother, Ray L. Hahn, Hanover. Serving as ushers were Earl H. Teal and Donald H. Leppo, both of Hanover, brothers-in-law of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a spring green sheath dress with matching accessories and a white rosebud corsage. The groom's mother wore a navy sheath dress with matching accessories and a pink rosebud corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the social room of the Littlestown Eagles Home. Approximately 200 wedding guests were in attendance from Hagerstown, Carlisle, Newville, Gettysburg, Hanover and Littlestown.

To Reside In Littlestown
The newlyweds left on a week's honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains. The bride chose a light blue wool suit with fur collar and black patent accessories, for traveling. She had a corsage of lilies-of-the-valley. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Hahn will reside at 141 Lumber St., Littlestown.

The bride was graduated from the Littlestown High School with the class of 1959 and is employed by the Littlestown Five and Ten Cent Store.

The groom graduated in 1959 from Littlestown High School and served six months in the Marine Reserve. He is employed by Chisholm-Ryder Company of Pennsylvania in Hanover.

CAMPAINING HITS CLIMAX IN WISCONSIN

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Campaigning comes to a climax in Wisconsin today and the state is a political sphinx on the eve of its crucial presidential primary election.

Upwards of a million voters, and possibly more go to the polls Tuesday.

They allocate delegate votes to the nominating conventions of both major political parties. But far more important is the potential psychological effect of the balloting on the outlook for the two Democratic rivals, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Kennedy Cautious
With good reason, Wisconsin has come to be known as "the graveyard of candidates."

An air of caution pervades Kennedy's camp. His supporters have sharply tempered the exuberant predictions they were making earlier in the campaign.

Vice versa, Humphrey looks and acts more confident than he did a few weeks ago. "I believe we will obtain a majority of the delegates," he said. "And I would consider that a substantial victory."

A recent poll in Wisconsin indicated that Humphrey has gained on Kennedy, although Kennedy is still the front runner.

This seemed to check with findings by two of Kennedy's professional aides.

One took samplings in Milwaukee Sunday. He said he found an edge for Kennedy. But his tabulation fell well below the two-to-one, or even three-to-one margin Kennedy is supposed to enjoy in the Milwaukee districts.

"What surprised me even more," he said, "was that about 22 percent said they didn't know. I've never found that many still undecided 48 hours before an election."

The other Kennedy lieutenant, who has been concentrating on labor union voters, said he could not tell how these votes will go. The AFL-CIO leadership in the state is boosting Humphrey.

You hear much less talk today of a Kennedy "grand slam" — that is, that he will get the highest total vote, scoop up the delegates in all 10 congressional districts, and win all the at-large delegates. The total is 30, with the 31st already split between him and Humphrey.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brig Gen Frank T. Hines, retired, who headed the government's veterans' affairs activities almost 22½ years—longer than any other man—died Sunday. He would have been 81 next Monday.

A son, Frank T. Hines Jr., today said his father had suffered a stroke nearly 10 years ago but continued some business activity until recently.

The general suffered a fall and entered the Mont Alto Veterans Administration Hospital here about two weeks ago, the son said.

The hospital listed the cause of death as bronchial pneumonia.

Funerary services will be held Wednesday at Ft. Myer Chapel, in nearby Arlington, Va. Interment will follow in Arlington National Cemetery.

Hines is regarded as having been the first director of the Veterans Bureau. His activities prior to his appointment in 1923 had been directed most of the time by as many as three men serving contemporaneously as it evolved from the World War I Bureau of War Risk Insurance into the Veterans Bureau.

Property Transfers

GOLF MATCH POSTPONED
The Gettysburg College-Villanova golf match, scheduled for today in Philadelphia, has been postponed until next Monday because of the wet condition of the course on which the Wildcats play their matches. The Bullets will now open their season at Lehigh on Friday.

TORONTO (AP)—American Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. and Joan Stuart, 22-year-old Toronto white singer, have called off their engagement. Miss Stuart said Davis "has a lot of debts to pay off and with all his commitments we decided that it just wouldn't work."

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The state Supreme Court has killed Louis J. Carter's plan to seek the Democratic nomination for state representative from Montgomery County.

In an opinion signed by Justice Herbert B. Cohen, the court Friday agreed with a lower court ruling that four signatures on Carter's nominating petition were improper. This left him three short of the 100 names required to get on the April 28 primary ballot.

The court said the filing of an additional set of names would "disrupt election proceedings."

Miss Johnson Wins Arion Award

Miss Janet Johnson, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Lester O. Johnson, E. Broadway, was awarded the Arion Foundation Award for outstanding musical achievement at the annual Night of Music Friday at Gettysburg High School.

The award is presented each year by the Senior Band to a member who is in the Senior class. Members of the band nominate three seniors on the basis of scholarship, cooperation, musicianship, musical performance, attendance, ambition, diligence, inspiration to others and personal habits. The high school faculty then selects from the nominees one candidate on the basis of good citizenship.

Miss Johnson's activities and previous honors include presidency of the Senior Band in her Senior year, presidency of Future Teachers' Association, Junior High School Student Council presidency and membership in Mask and Wig. She was the winner of the DAR citizenship award and a member of the National Honor Society. Her musical accomplishments include participation in county and district bands for the last three years. In addition to her eight years in the school bands, she is also a member of the school orchestra and high school choir.

Miss Johnson plays a clarinet. She also plays piano. The award was presented to her by Clifford B. Snowberger, high school principal.

Wedding

MRS. DANIEL RIDINGER

The Keysville Lutheran Church was the setting Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the wedding of Miss Frances Irene Clabaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clabaugh, and Daniel Thomas Ridinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Ridinger, both of Taneytown. Rev. Donald Brake performed the ceremony in front of an altar decorated with carnations, snapdragons and ferns.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a full-length gown of white lace over tulle with a train and sequins and seed pearls. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Boone, Taneytown, sister of the bride. She wore a ballerina designed with a sabbina neckline and flowing panel. Her headpiece was of white satin and she carried a bouquet of spring flowers. Mrs. Ruth Varner, Washington, D. C., sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid. She wore a ballerina-length gown in blue fashioned like that of the matron of honor.

Reception Is Held

John Ridinger, Taneytown, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Robert Boone, brother-in-law of the bride; Edward Clabaugh, brother of the bride, and Samuel Bower, nephew of the groom, all of Taneytown. John Henry Ridinger, will be held at the church on Saturday, 1:30 p.m. Confirmation will be held on Palm Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

Two Baptisms

During the Sunday worship service in St. John's Lutheran Church, the Rev. William C. Karns, pastor, baptized Carole Ann Koonitz, born August 30, 1956, and Debra Ann Koonitz, born January 10, 1958. They are the daughters of Charles Edward Jr. and Loretta Ann Rager Koonitz, of Chantilly, Va., and both were born in the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg. The baptismal sponsors were the father and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Charles E. Koonitz Sr.

The Starr Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church conducted Sunday School at the home of shut-in member, Miss Lillian Ditterer, S. Queen St., on Sunday. Mrs. Cleason Plunkert was acting superintendent. Mrs. Maurice C. Warehime was song leader; Mrs. Minnie DeGroot read the Scripture; Mrs. Irvin R. Kindig, offered prayer, and Luther W. Ritter, class teacher, taught the lesson.

Taneytown, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer. Brenda Harner, Taneytown, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a white nylon over blue tulle dress fashioned with an embroidered bodice. The mother of the bride wore a beige fitted suit with a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother chose a blue nylon over satin dress with a corsage of pink roses. A reception followed the ceremony in the Lutheran Church social room. The bride is a graduate of Taneytown High School and is employed by Ma-Da-Sha Gift Shop. The groom, also a graduate of Taneytown High School, is employed by E. E. Stuller Builders Co. Out-of-town guests were from Westminster, Frederick, Baltimore, Littlestown and Washington.

planned by the Altar Guild. The April bulletins were presented in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hahn by their son, Raymond. It was announced that the Consistory will convene on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the church social hall, instead of Wednesday. The last Lenten breakfast will be served to the men of the church and community by the Women's Guild on Wednesday at 7:15 a.m. The last Lenten Quiet Hour for young people will be held in the church sanctuary from 8 to 8:20 a.m. on Wednesday and a message on the character of Jesus will be sent by the pastor.

The Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, delivered a sermon on the theme "Judas Iscariot" at the Sunday worship service. An anthem was sung by the choir. Raymond Reinaman, John Morehead, Edgar DeGroot and Samuel Harman served as ushers. The altar flowers were presented in memory of Edwin L. Harget by the family. The April session of the church council will be held on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the church. The Alta Hunter Organization of the United Lutheran Church Women will meet on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. instead of Tuesday as previously announced. Confirmation will take place at the 10:15 a.m. service on Palm Sunday. Holy Communion will be administered on Wednesday and Thursday of Holy Week and at 10:15 a.m. on Easter Sunday.

FR. LYNCH IS CONDUCTING MISSION WEEK

The Rev. Fr. Basil Lynch, priest for the parish mission being conducted in St. Aloysius Catholic Church this week. A mission is defined as an extraordinary agency for bringing the knowledge of the doctrine and practices of the church before the minds of the people in a form that is both objective and instructive and is a period of special graces and blessings. Father Lynch spoke at the morning masses on Sunday, extending an invitation to all parishioners to make the mission and to bring their friends to the services.

The mission officially opened at the 7 o'clock evening service on Sunday when the missioner spoke on "Family Living." On Sunday afternoon, all preschool children and babies were present at a service arranged especially for them, when each was individually blessed and all were consecrated to the Blessed Mother. Special envelopes for the mission offering will be distributed during this week. Religious articles are on display in the parish hall and anyone desiring to obtain them may do so after 8:15 mass.

Students of the parish from Delone Catholic High School received their report cards from the pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle, following the masses on Sunday. The weekly public party on Saturday will begin after the mission service at 8:30 p.m. in the parish hall. Ronald Oaster is chairman of the committee in arrangements and Mrs. Joseph Rang is refreshment committee chairman.

or before and after evening services all week. The article will be blessed by the missioner. Members of the Parish Council of Catholic Women are in charge of the mission stand.

There will be no religious instructions this evening. Instead, high school students and adults are expected to attend the mission service. Services during the week will begin at 7:30 p.m. Morning masses will be held daily at 5:30 and 8:15 a.m. Father Lynch will speak tonight on "Sin"; on Tuesday evening "Purity and Company Keeping"; Wednesday, "Marriage"; Thursday, "The Mercy of God"; Friday, "Discouraging Problems of Life"; Saturday, "The Blessed Mother" and at the closing service at 3 p.m. Sunday, "The Blessed Sacrament." At the closing service, the Papal Blessing will be imparted and baptismal vows renewed. There will be a very short instruction period following the morning masses.

Bullets Handed 6-5 Loss In 11-Inning Contest By Lebanon Valley Saturday

Two singles, a stolen base and a run in the bottom of the 11th inning gave the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley a 6-5 win over the Gettysburg College Bullets Saturday afternoon in Annville. Gettysburg is now 0-2 on the season. The game was Lebanon Valley's opener.

With the count knotted 5-5 after the regulation nine innings, the Bullets placed runners on first and third in the tenth with two out, but a force play on Gordon Kissner stopped the threat. Lebanon Valley threatened in its half. Two men went down in quick fashion. Pitcher Fred Porriño caught the second pitch and lined it to deep right field for a triple, but Dick Rhine popped out to George Burnett ending the frame.

In the top of the 11th the Bullets were retired in order. With one out in the home half of the frame, Mark Wert beat out an infield single and stole second. Brooks Slatner was fanned by Gettysburg's fourth hurler, Mel Jacobs. Left fielder Jack Sheaffer then lined a drive past third base to send in the winning run.

Muff Many Chances
Throughout the afternoon the Bullets' biggest problem was coming through with clutch hits with men on third base. In the fourth inning Gettysburg loaded the bases with none out, but the next three men went down in order. Again in the fifth the visitors had men on second and third with one out and one run in and were stopped. In the sixth, Kissner and Burnett were on second and third with one out and again there were no-run producing hits.

The host club took advantage of all three Bullet errors and turned them into runs. Lebanon Valley's first five runs came in the first three frames as they tallied twice in the initial frame and three more in the third. A walk, two Bullet miscues and a sacrifice fly to left enabled Karl Wesolowski and Mark Wert to cross the plate for a 2-0 lead. Singles by Wesolowski and Wert and a double by Slatner with the aid of a fielder's choice and sacrifice fly produced three more tallies.

FOUR TRAINERS SHIP HORSES TO DERBY MAY 7

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Trainers of the first four finishers in Saturday's Florida Derby made plans today to ship their colts direct to Louisville for the Kentucky Derby on May 7.

Conditioners of Bally Ache, Venetian Way, Victoria Park and Eagle Admiral indicated they would ship direct to Louisville under present plans but will wait for a few days and hope the weather there moderates.

H. J. (Jimmy) Pitt, who trains Bally Ache, said his next start will be in the Derby Trial. Pitt and owner Leonard D. Fruchtman of Toledo, Ohio, had hoped to send Bally Ache against C. S. Jones' Warfare in the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct this month but Warfare injured his left hind ankle and a out.

Warfare, the 2-year-old champion, beat Bally Ache in the Cowdin, Champagne and Garden State Sakes last fall.

Bally Ache ended his winter campaign at Gulfstream Park Saturday with a brilliant score in the Florida Derby. Earlier he won the Hibiscus, Bahamas and Flamingo Stakes.

His Florida Derby margin was a scant nose but jockey Bobby Ussery said Bally Ache had never shown such late speed before.

Floors Baldoni For Early Knockout

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson wanted to use Saturday night's fight with Tony Baldoni as a tuneup for his return bout with Paul Pender. He barely worked up a sweat.

Robinson knocked out Baldoni in one minute, 40 seconds of the first round, flooring him twice. "It wasn't any use continuing," said Robinson. "I guess I'll just have to get my work in the gym."

Robinson will meet Pender April 29 in Boston to try to regain his New York and Massachusetts version of the world middleweight championship.

Eight Pitchers Work
Bruce Simpson started on the Bullets with Burnett coming on in the fourth, Dick Hawkins in the sixth and Mel Jacobs, who was charged with the loss, taking over in the eleventh. Steve Wisler started for the Dutchmen, but gave way to Bob Stull in the third, Yajko in the sixth and Fred Porriño in the ninth. Porriño received the win.

Brooks Slatner was the game's leading hitter as he collected three sacrifices for six trips to the plate. Mark Wert belted out a pair of hits for five at bats. George Burnett and Connie Youse topped the Gettysburg order with a pair of hits each.

This afternoon's scheduled game with Yale University was called off because of the water-logged condition of the field following Sunday's heavy rains.

The Bullets will resume action Wednesday against powerful Penn State at University Park and on Saturday oppose Temple at Philadelphia.

MAN WHO FLED REDS IS HAPPY

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP) — Seven years ago a Polish pilot flying a Russian jet made a bold flight to freedom from behind the Iron Curtain. Have his dreams been realized?

More than he can put into words, says Frank Jarecki of nearby Reno. "Freedom is something you can't express; you can just feel it deep in your heart."

Since his 1953 flight, Jarecki has married, obtained a college degree, become an American citizen and rose to manager of the Oil City Machine and Tool Co.

"It's really wonderful," Jarecki said of the United States in an interview. He added:

"It's such a big country. You can travel through so many cities and states and no one stops you. There is no one to check documents or ask you where you are going or where you are coming from."

Jarecki has only one regret—his mother is still in Poland. He said: "I hope to bring her here some time. She's a darn good cook."

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa. (AP)—A heavy rain Sunday cancelled the U.S. Auto Club's big car races at Williams Grove Speedway. The make-up date was set tentatively for June 18.

O. ROBERTSON AND WEST HEAD OLYMPIC TEAM

By FRANK PITMAN
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — All-American Oscar Robertson and Jerry West head a brilliant cast of seven collegians anchoring the U.S. Olympic basketball team that will play in Rome this summer under the command of Coach Pete Newell of California.

The college stars for the first time shoved aside veteran AAU players to dominate the 12-member team chosen Sunday by the Olympic Basketball Committee. The selections followed the three-day trials here climaxed by the NCAA University all-stars' 124-97 conquest of Peoria's AAU champions in Saturday night's finals before 10,000 fans.

The victory earned the NCAA team six Olympic berths and won for Newell, their 44-year-old towel-chewing coach, the honor of directing the team in the Olympic competition. He'll be assisted by Peoria's Warren Womble, who coached the 1952 Olympic champions.

20 For Robertson

West, 6-3, came from Cabin Creek, W.Va., riddled Peoria with a 39-point burst, 24 in the first half, to set an individual high for the trials. Robertson, an incomparable playmaker and collegiate scoring leader from Cincinnati, poured in 20 points to take scoring honors for the tryouts. He totaled 72 and West, a senior at West Virginia, was runnerup with 65 in three games.

Also picked from the NCAA team were two 6-foot-11 defensive stars, All-America Darrell Imhoff of California, and Walt Bellamy of Indiana; Purdue's 6-6 sophomore Terry Dischinger, who led the Big Ten in scoring, and Texas' 6-2 back court artist, Jay Arnette.

Lucas Picked 7th

All-America Jerry Lucas, 6-6, day trials here climaxed by the NCAA champions, is the seventh collegian picked from the field of 96 players.

The four AAU stars named to the team include the only repeater from 1956, Burdette Halderson, 6-8 leading scorer for Bartlesville's (Okla.). The others are 6-8 Bob Boozer and 6-foot Allen Kelley, both of Peoria, and Les Lane, Bartlesville.

Adrian Smith, 6-1 former Kentucky ace, was chosen from the armed forces all-stars.

RED WINGS ARE DEFEATED

DETROIT (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs, says Gordie Howe, will need more than luck to get past the Montreal Canadiens in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup Championship series that begins Thursday night in Montreal.

Howe, long-time star of the Detroit Red Wings, slumped in a corner of the dressing room as his club carried the Maple Leafs to six games before losing a semi-final series.

"The Leafs were lucky against us, and they'll admit it if they're honest," said Howe. "But luck alone won't do much against those Canadiens. I think they have more polished hockey players than Toronto."

Red Wings Fizzled
The Red Wings fizzled in the final period Sunday night, and the Leafs bombed the nets with three goals for a 4-2 decision before a packed Olympia Stadium house of 13,696.

Bob Pulford twice pulled Toronto from behind and Frank Mahovlich got the clincher for the third time in four victories.

Murray Oliver and Norm Ullman scored for Detroit. Oliver getting the opener after five minutes of play and Ullman sending the Wings back into the lead in the first minute of the second period.

DUTCHMEN TOP LOCAL NETMEN

The Lebanon Valley tennis team blackened Coach Rev. Lawrence Roller's debut as head Bullet pilot by walloping the Gettysburg netmen 8-1 Saturday afternoon on the home courts. Both teams were inaugurating the 1960 spring season.

The Flying Dutchmen jumped to a quick start and never let up as they copped the first five of six single matches and then turned around and took all three doubles events.

Sophomore Bob Gray, Ridgeville, was the one Bullet winner as he defeated Terry Meyers 6-2, 5-7, 6-4. The team of Rich Fine, Forrest Hills, N. Y., and Roger Crump, Floral Park, N. Y., put up a fine battle for the host team but eventually lost out in the doubles to Meyers and Fred Eckelman 6-4, 6-8, 6-1.

Gettysburg will be idle until next Saturday afternoon when it entertains Western Maryland. Besides Gray, Fine and Crump, the Bullets will be counting on Charles MacDonough, Wynwood; Bob Allen, Wethersfield, Conn.; Dick Hershey, York, and Gary Wachter, Great Neck, N. Y., the remainder of the season.

Singles
Howie Good (L), defeated Charles MacDonough 6-1, 6-1.
Larry Strait (L), defeated Bob Allen 6-3, 6-3.

Bob Bell (L), defeated Bob Herr 6-3, 6-3.
Bob Musser (L), defeated Shayan Akolakar, 6-3, 6-1.

Bob Kilmoyer (L), defeated Dick Hershey 6-4, 6-4.
Bob Gray (G), defeated Terry Meyers 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

Doubles
Good and Bell (L), defeated MacDonough and Irv Lindley 6-0, 6-0.

Strait and Musser (L), defeated Wachter and Allen 6-2, 6-3.
Meyers and Eckelman (L), defeated Fine and Crump 6-4, 6-8, 6-1.

PICKS CHISOX TO REPEAT AS AL CHAMPIONS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The Chicago White Sox don't scare you. They just beat you. They slash, dash, punt and eke out runs while the other fellow waits for the long ball. They throw up a tight defense to protect a veteran pitching staff. In short, the Sox are a solid ball club with the age of their pitching the only questionable factor.

Since the World Series, Manager Al Lopez has added power in Minnie Minoso and Gene Freese without giving up front-line strength.

Because the Sox appear to have strengthened a pennant-winning club, they figure to repeat in the American League. For the long-range future, look elsewhere but for 1960 this should be the ball club.

Yankees Are Threat
New York, it says here, is the main threat. The trade that brought Roger Maris to the Stadium from Kansas City gives the Yankees a batting order that should be the strongest in the league. Maris, Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Bill Skowron and Hector Lopez can erupt at any moment.

However, the Yankee pitching still is questionable.

Cleveland's trades built a solid infield. Frank Lane got second baseman Johnny Temple and third baseman Bubba Phillips but may have given up too much in Cal McLish, a 19-game winner, and Minoso. The Indians must sink or swim with kid pitchers. It might be too much to ask of a young staff.

Detroit In Top Division
Detroit has fine front-line pitching, plus the bats of Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn. Manager Jimmy Dykes has to gamble at short with Chico Fernandez and at first base with big Steve Bilko. Baltimore is shooting the works with a young team, based on a fuzzy-cheeked pitching staff, that should improve as the year continues. Kansas City has spruced up with Hank Bauer, Norm Siebern and Don Larsen but the pitching still is too thin and the infield questionable.

Boston's hopes appear to be tied closely to Ted Williams who may not be able to play many games. Here's the way it looks from here:

1. Chicago
2. New York
3. Cleveland
4. Detroit
5. Baltimore
6. Kansas City
7. Boston
8. Washington

Cops Heavyweight Wrestling Title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Hal Wilson, a Navy man from Hawaii, is the new American Greco-Roman heavyweight wrestling champion.

Wilson, who jabs the sales at 385 pounds, won the title Saturday night after defeating defending champion Bill Kerslake of Cleveland and Oklahoma University's Dale Lewis in the round-robin tournament.

The San Francisco Olympic Club won the team title, with U.S. Navy at UCLA second and U.S. Navy at Hawaii and the U.S. Air Force at Colorado Springs tied for third.

CLARK FIGHTS ON TV FRIDAY

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Can Lamar Clark really punch? Boxing fans around the nation may get the answer Friday night when the world record-holding kayo artist displays his vaunted power against Bartolo Soni in a television-NBC 10 p.m., EST—ten-rounder at Ogden, Utah.

Clark is a 25-year-old, 5-10, 185-pounder from Cedar City, Utah, who has won all 46 of his pro fights, the last 45 by knockouts. That's a world record.

One night he scored six knockouts against a collection of nobodies in nine minutes fighting time. Soni, a 21-year-old six-footer from the Dominican Republic, never has been stopped in 15 pro fights. The 180-pounder has a 12-2-1 record, including 8 kayos.

Rejected Big Bid
Minshar had 22 homers and batted in 92 runs with Charleston, W. Va., while hitting .272.

Batley hit only 219 with the Sox last season but his defensive work is regarded as superb.

It was the Senators' second trade within 24 hours. Sunday the Senators swapped catcher Clint Courtney, and infielder Ron Samford, for Billy Gardner, 32, infielder of the Baltimore Orioles.

Last June, Bill Vecek president of the White Sox, offered the Senators five players and $250,000 for Sievers, Courtney and pitcher Russ Kemmerer. This deal was rejected by the Senators.

FRANKLIN, Pa. (AP) — Franklin is the new national YMCA basketball champion.

Franklin won the title Saturday night by defeating Lexington, Ky., 65-61 in the tournament here Atlanta, Ga., defeated Springfield, Mo., 94-88 in a consolation game.

As champion, Franklin succeeds Toledo, Ohio, which did not send a team to this year's tourney.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The town council was organized on Wednesday last. James A. Thompson, Esq., was appointed President and R. G. McCreary, Esq., Clerk and Treasurer. The new Burgess, Col. C. H. Buehler, was qualified and entered upon the duties of his office. The members of council are James A. Thompson, Andrew Schick, Samuel Herist, Jacob Sheels, Adam Doersom, David Kendlehart. The justices of the peace are George Arnold, A. J. Cover, constables, John Barrett and John Sheels. School directors, R. G. McCreary, E. G. Farnestock, George E. Buehler, T. S. Welty, D. A. Buehler, T. D. Carson.

By a card in our paper today it will be seen that our friend Daniel Plank is again a candidate for the office of Register & Recorder. He was before a very attentive and capable officer; and his physical inability to labor is a strong argument for his support again. We know not who may be aspirants for the office; but we hope the People's Party will kindly consider his claims upon them.

Our friend and neighbor, Col. Samson, who purchased the old County Building, N.E. Corner of the Public Square, has been fitting it up as a "tip top" establishment and will remove his Clothing Store to that eligible situation in a few days. It is a first rate business location and the Col. will find he had made a good exchange.

J. Cassatt Neely, Esq., Attorney-at-Law, has hung out his shingle next door to the "Sentinel Office" in the room formerly occupied by Wm. B. McClellan, Esq.

Mr. Israel Young of the Washington House was very near having ugly work in the way of a fire on Tuesday morning last. Flames were discovered issuing from one of the chambers, but by prompt effort it was soon extinguished. He lost about $30 worth of bedclothes and other articles. It is not known how the fire originated.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Local Items: The people of York Springs and neighborhood are troubled with mumps.

Henry Butler sold to Edward Brook in Butler township, 3 Acres of land for Cemetery purposes for $1,000 cash.

On Thursday Hon. Edw. McPherson, administrator of the estate of Geo. Little, dec'd., sold at public sale five shares of stock in the Gettysburg Gas Company to Jeremiah Culp at $57.25 per share, no value $50.

The lower house of the Rhode Island legislature last week passed a bill appropriating $1,000 to the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association and $2,000 for the erection of monuments to the memory of Rhode Island troops.

Improvements: There is quite a stir about the old Smith property, corner of centre square and Chambersburg street. Mr. Eckert is pushing the work on the foundations for the new building for store room and dwelling.

The old foundry has assumed a new appearance. A large new two-story frame building has been put up on the south end. Capt. Gilbert is busy putting in the plant and machinery which he brought from his establishment in Chambersburg.

Miss M. Ella Brown, teacher of Flat Bush school, sends us the following record: "Fannie Brinkerhoff and Annie Lease each spelled and defined 1,834 test words, each spelling two. They also spelled 900 geographical words; also 1,108 miscellaneous words."

Today's Talk

OF COURSE YOU CAN!

None of us knows our true capacity, either of thought or action. It is only by test and trial that we keep ourselves. The opportunity for growth is spread before us.

We need to father our will and use it lavishly. We can accomplish far more than we suspect. The greater success is ever before us.

We need a kindly angel to watch by us and to assure us. That angel will whisper in your ear this line: "Of course you can!" And sure enough, suddenly you will begin to note that you do things which before you only dreamed you had hidden within yourself — powers never before experienced! You will say to yourself: "Of course I can!" — and you can!

There are times when God gives us the strength and courage to do remarkable things never before realized. We help ourselves in emergencies. God leads the way, and God helps out by loaning us special equipment!

We all need kindly encouragement to give us sight beyond the hills. If there are those who doubt your will and belief, prove it by demonstrating the fact yourself. Of course you can!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Be Your Friend's Best Friend."

Just Folks

BEING YOUNG

Many's the time have I wished for my childhood;
Wished, oh, so oft, that I might be a boy.
Many's the time have I wished for the wildwood;
Wished for my young days, because of their joy.

Many's the time have I longed for the old home;
Thoughts of the farm off do run through my mind.
In fancy I see the cool paths where I'd roam,
And the banks of the creek, which with wild flowers were lined.

But now, though I long for the haunts of my young days,
No longer I wish that I might be a boy.
I'm content as I am; I've no use for their wild ways —
In being a youth I have found there's no joy.

I tried it, just once, on a bright sunny morning
With others I thought I would like to play ball;
I broke a big window — let this be a warning —
It cost thirty dollars in cash. That is all.

Miss Aadland's Mother Slapped

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—From now on, vows Florence Aadland, she's going to see to it that her daughter, Beverly, dates only her doctors and lawyers.

Mrs. Aadland checked into a hospital to have her jaw examined. "I think it's broke," said the mother of the late Errol Flynn's teen-age protegee. She said Beverly's latest admirer, age 19, "back-handed me when I told him to keep his hands off my baby."

"This new guy," she mused, "he's trying to be in love with my baby, but this is a lot of silly stuff. He couldn't afford to buy Beverly toothpaste for a month."

Capture 2,044 Pounds Of Snakes

OKEEHNE, Okla. (AP)—Connoisseurs with a taste for rattlesnake meat joined hunters and curious spectators Sunday at the annual Okeene rattlesnake hunt.

The people numbered 19,000 and they turned this wind-swept northwestern Oklahoma town of 1,100 into a carnival.

The snakes, bagged by hunters in heavy boots weighed 2,044 pounds—before those hungry lovers of barbecued snake meat went to work.

They had penetrated to that depth. The following persons who attended the Union School, taught by Miss Sherman Scott, did not miss a day during the term: Mattie Mussemann and Harry Mussemann.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE "LOW DUTCH" SETTLEMENT

It can be stated, with absolute historical accuracy, that the territory now included in Adams County was, insofar as its early settlers were concerned, a "melting pot." Numbered among the pioneers in this section, prior to the American Revolution, was a colony of "Low Dutch" from Holland, with some French Huguenots, who had taken refuge in that country after the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1685. The history of their stay in this vicinity is a most interesting one.

Stapleton in his "Memorial of the Huguenots in America," published in 1901 had this to say of the Conewago Colony: "On the headwaters of the Conewago Creek, in the eastern limits of Adams County, Pennsylvania, a considerable number of Huguenots located at an early date. Among these were James Pettit, who had a large plantation here soon after 1740, and died at a very advanced age in 1770, leaving sons Thomas and James Pettit. Abraham Larue, who died in 1757, leaving a family. Adam De Gomis, who died in 1772. John Noel prior to 1750, and who died in 1766, very aged, and leaving a large posterity. Also Daniel Renelle prior to 1751. None of the foregoing appear on the lists as foreign emigrants, and it is therefore a fair presumption that they came hither from an older colony."

In Two Townships
"That this inference is correct is borne out by the fact that the Pettit and other families named are found among the Huguenots who came to New York and New Jersey. Their settlement was confined to a locality now in the townships of Strahan and Berwick in Adams County. Soon after 1760 a large number of French and a few Dutch families removed to what is now Adams County from Strahlenburg, in Bergen County, New Jersey. These people were rigid adherents of the Dutch Reformed faith, and built a church on the Conewago about two miles east of the present village of Hunterstown. About 1781 many of them concluded to attempt another colonial experiment by securing a large body of land in Shelby County, Kentucky. To this new center over a hundred, of all ages removed, before the close of the century. In 1793 another colony of nine families left the Conewago settlement and located at Owasso Lake, Cayuga County, New York. To such an extent was the Conewago colony reduced by removals and defections that the maintenance of a distinctive congregation of their faith (the Dutch Reformed) became impractical and in 1817 they petitioned the Legislature for permission to sell their church, which was granted."

John Bodine

"Among the colonists of French extraction at the Conewago settlement, not already noted, were John Bodine, whose will was probated in 1766. George Brokaw, who died in 1794, at an advanced age leaving sons, Peter, George and John Brokaw. Peter Cosine, who died aged in 1779, leaving sons, Cornelius, Markinus and Peter. Cornelius Cosine, who died in 1786, leaving a number of married children. Andre Ridet, who died in 1776, and in his will he mentions his brother, John Ridet, Michael Le Boob, who died in 1781. Peter Montfort, who died in 1769, quiet aged, leaving sons Peter, Anny and John Montfort. John Montfort, who died in 1777, leaving sons Francis, Peter, John and Laurence Montfort. Francis Cassart (1), George Laschelles, Garret Demarest, Samuel Durye and Abraham Lovine."

"The Dutch colonists were Joris Brinkerhoff (1717-1810), father of a large family, and whose son, George (1761-1813), was for a time pastor of the church. Henry Banta, who had an unusually large family, nearly all of whom removed to Kentucky. Martin Nevius, who died in 1790. John Vandersalen, died 1772. William Vanderhill, died 1772. David Vandine, died 1795. Iosta Shamp, and probably others who have not been identified."

1 Church, 2 Cemeteries.
The Low Dutch Settlement of the Conewago had but one church, but the colony, which was in the form of a half-moon, had a burial ground at each end. Today both of these graveyards are in very poor condition and the one on the south is so overgrown with briars and underbrush that it is almost impossible to enter and the old gravestones are most difficult to locate. The burial plot on the north is enclosed by a stone wall (broken in several places), and the gate is surmounted by an old wooden arch (the Huguenots in America). Here also the briars and underbrush have had their way and many of the old stones are broken or fallen from their bases. Some of the old markers have been undermined by the ground-hogs and large cedar trees have grown up within the area enclosed as a burial ground.

A careful study of the remaining grave markers in both of the Low Dutch burial grounds give a fairly reliable roll of the families that, at one time, lived in this colony. They are listed as follows: Beraw, Demaree (Demarest), Lashells, Montfort, Brinkerhoff, Van Duyn, Kitchoon, McCreary, McDannel, Vanorsdal, Houghtelin, Van Arsdal, Robinson, Coshun, Cowover (Conover), Osborn (the burial ground on the north end is sometimes called "Osborne's"), Hulick, Anderson, Cassatt and Vanderbilt.

Catholic Prelate Criticizes Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Roman Catholic prelate says he believes misguided liberalism is departing from fundamental principles of right and wrong.

"There is nothing as stubborn as a fact—principles of truth, integrity and honesty," James Francis Cardinal McIntyre told a meeting of Knights of Columbus Sunday.

Commenting on recent court decisions on so-called obscene literature, the cardinal said: "The efforts of legislative and judicial agencies to depart from these principles are ludicrous. No matter how thin you slice it, it's still smut."

CLUB NEGROES IN CAPE TOWN WHO QUIT WORK

By ADRIAN PORTER

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Troops and police clubbed hundreds of Negroes in the Cape Town area today who failed to join a native back-to-work movement. Police also staged house-to-house raids and shooting was heard in one township.

An African priest telephoned from Nyanga East native settlement, a center of racial unrest, saying two were killed and three wounded. Later reports from another Negro there said police opened fire and four Africans were wounded.

It appeared Africans were assembled at a small hill in Nyanga, defying police armored cars. This was where the firing was reported.

Unrest Continues

Across the country, near Durban, one Negro was killed when police charged scattered demonstrators at Claremont native township. Unrest also continued in other places over wide areas of the troubled country.

The tough police moves apparently were aimed at breaking up the Negro work boycott in Cape Town once and for all. The Negro stay-at-home campaign had hit this big port city hardest of all South Africa's major population centers. The campaign was started two weeks ago to back up a drive against the passes all non-whites must carry.

Move On Holdouts

Authorities waited this morning to see if the Negroes would return to work today. When they realized that most of them had, they moved in on the holdouts still at home.

The raids followed what appeared to be Cape Town's quietest day since the current racial trouble began.

The Chamber of Commerce had reported about 60 per cent of the Negroes back at work and said the "labor situation seemed to be coming back to normal." Trains and buses bringing nonwhite workers in to the city were full again.

RED CHIEF USES DOUBLE TALK

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union will do "everything for the solution of the question of a German peace treaty on a basis acceptable to the Western powers."

But at a Moscow homecoming rally reporting on his visit to France, Khrushchev once more insisted on signing separate treaties with East and West Germany, a proposal repeatedly rejected by the West.

Khrushchev said the German question had bulked large in his talks with President Charles de Gaulle and he expressed belief those talks had clarified the Soviet position for the French. The Soviet Premier returned Sunday from an 11-day visit to France. Khrushchev once more lashed out at Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany. He said on his visits to the United States and Japan, Adenauer tried to mobilize "the cold war champions" against a German peace treaty.

GOP IS OUT TO WIN CRUCIAL RACE IN N. DAK.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans are preparing for an all-out effort in a special North Dakota senatorial election which could influence the whole presidential campaign.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said that so far as the June 28 North Dakota balloting is concerned "this is it."

"If we Republicans lose this special election in the Midwest just prior to the convention, it will influence the whole campaign this year," he said. "If we can't win in a key pivotal state like this, we may lose the presidential election."

Nominate Davis

Republicans have nominated Gov. John E. Davis to fill the remainder of more than four years of the term of the late Republican Sen. William Langer. Democrats are expected to nominate Rep. Quentin N. Burdick at their state convention Thursday.

Because the farm issue is likely to be paramount, Goldwater said he has been urging Vice President Richard M. Nixon to go into the state and make a farm speech.

Goldwater thinks this program may prove to be something of an antidote to the policies of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. Benson's ideas are under heavy attack from Democrats and many Middle Western Republicans are considerably less than charmed with them.

Call In "Rocky"

"We know that Nixon doesn't agree with Benson," Goldwater said in an interview, "but we don't know the extent to which he doesn't."

Thus far Nixon has said no to Goldwater's pleas for a North Dakota speech.

Arrangements have been made for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to make a two-day tour in North Dakota. Rockefeller said sent word to the senatorial committee to hold down on bookings for formal speeches.

The New York governor wants to try out his smile on North Dakotans. So he'll take to the streets, the supermarkets and the roadside farm stands to pass the Republican word.

100 FIREMEN BATTLE BLAZE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin, accompanied by a minor explosion, heavily damaged a two-story brick building in the business section of suburban Etna Friday night.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in a furnace room in the cellar. The structure housed the Admiral Furniture Co. and a state liquor store on the first floor and several business and professional men's offices on the second floor.

The explosion blew out a plate glass window during the fire. Cause of the blast was not immediately learned.

Thousands of persons jammed into the section to watch some 100 firemen battle the blaze.

No damage estimate was disclosed immediately, but firemen said it would be extensive.

FRANCE, REDS SIGN NEW PACT

PARIS (AP)—France and the Soviet Union agreed Saturday to cooperate in the field of science and the peaceful applications of atomic energy. These arrangements have been under consideration during Premier Nikita Khrushchev's presumpt visit.

The scientific agreement was signed by Roger Seoudoux, director general of cultural affairs in the French Foreign Ministry, and Yuri Zhukov, his Soviet counterpart.

The atomic energy agreement was signed by Pierre Conture, French government delegate to the Atomic Energy Commission, and Vassili Emelianov, delegate of the Soviet Council of Ministers for the utilization of atomic energy.

Both formalize exchanges of information and documents in the scientific and atomic fields.

Khrushchev, nearing the windup of his visit, today walked the storied halls of the Palace of Versailles, where King Louis XIV once held court. He motored to the ancient palace from Rambouillet, President Charles de Gaulle's summer home 30 miles southwest of Paris, where they have held private negotiations.

PARIS (AP)—France and the Soviet Union agreed Saturday to cooperate in the field of science and the peaceful applications of atomic energy. These arrangements have been under consideration during Premier Nikita Khrushchev's presumpt visit.

The scientific agreement was signed by Roger Seoudoux, director general of cultural affairs in the French Foreign Ministry, and Yuri Zhukov, his Soviet counterpart.

The atomic energy agreement was signed by Pierre Conture, French government delegate to the Atomic Energy Commission, and Vassili Emelianov, delegate of the Soviet Council of Ministers for the utilization of atomic energy.

Both formalize exchanges of information and documents in the scientific and atomic fields.

Khrushchev, nearing the windup of his visit, today walked the storied halls of the Palace of Versailles, where King Louis XIV once held court. He motored to the ancient palace from Rambouillet, President Charles de Gaulle's summer home 30 miles southwest of Paris, where they have held private negotiations.

The New York governor wants to try out his smile on North Dakotans. So he'll take to the streets, the supermarkets and the roadside farm stands to pass the Republican word.

100 FIREMEN BATTLE BLAZE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin, accompanied by a minor explosion, heavily damaged a two-story brick building in the business section of suburban Etna Friday night.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in a furnace room in the cellar. The structure housed the Admiral Furniture Co. and a state liquor store on the first floor and several business and professional men's offices on the second floor.

The explosion blew out a plate glass window during the fire. Cause of the blast was not immediately learned.

Thousands of persons jammed into the section to watch some 100 firemen battle the blaze.

No damage estimate was disclosed immediately, but firemen said it would be extensive.

START STUDY OF EDUCATION IN THIS STATE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania today starts a sweeping study to see what steps are needed to put its education system on a modern day footing.

The monumental task has been assigned to a special committee named by Gov. Lawrence to go over education needs at all levels, especially in the area of school finances.

The committee, headed by Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis, scheduled a noon day luncheon to formally launch the study. An organization session was planned in late afternoon.

School Finances Up

One of the committee's legislative members, Sen. Paul L. Wagner (R-Schuylkill), voiced a hope that the study would produce recommendations on which the 1961 Legislature can act.

Interviewed Sunday by the Associated Press, Wagner said the group must develop specific recommendations on school finances if it expects action from the General Assembly.

"What this committee must do is to give us a box with a price on it and tell us what its contents are before the Legislature can be expected to approve any additional spending," said Wagner. He is chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

He urged the group to concentrate not only on whether additional school aid is needed but also on whether available funds are being spent wisely by individual school districts.

Word Of Caution

"Let's see first what is being spent on the absolute basic things as compared to the extras before we start calling for more money," he added.

He cautioned the committee against developing recommendations for more spending without saying where it is to occur.

The committee's work will be carried out by eight task forces assisted by professional "chiefs of staff" from the Department of Public Instruction and experts in

Some "Rotten Egg" Odor In Roast Beef

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Food connoisseurs may be surprised to learn that hydrogen sulfide—source of the classic "rotten egg" smell—and ammonia are among compounds present in the aroma of cooked beef.

This was discovered by biochemistry Professor Frank M. Strong and graduate student Mao Yueh of the University of Wisconsin.

The two normally unpleasant odors were found in exceedingly small amounts in the beef aroma.

WANT SURVEY OF CREEK IN CENTRE CO.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs wants a private engineering firm to survey the pollution problem on Spring Creek in Centre County.

Winding up a two-day convention here Saturday, the Sportsmen adopted a resolution calling on the State Sanitary Water Board to undertake the survey.

The State Fish Commission has hatcheries on the creek. The Sportsmen urged that engineers and aquatic biologists study all possible solutions and the cost of each.

Hatcheries Periled

Everett Henderson, first vice president, said the hatcheries near Bellefonte would be destroyed if the pollution problem is left unattended. The facilities are estimated to be worth a million dollars.

The sportsmen defeated a resolution to prohibit a doe season. Other resolutions adopted by the convention would:

Require the State Water and Resources Board to hold up a permit for creating a body of water with a surface area of more than 50 acres until the owner agreed to allow free public fishing.

Other Measures

Endorse Fish Commission efforts to gain fishways at dams on the Susquehanna River to permit migration of fish.

Remove from political handling all money received from the sale of game and fish licenses and hire game and fish commission employees on a nonpolitical basis.

Work for immediate strengthening

each of the areas under study. Tentative plans call for holding public hearings on various subjects.

Dr. Robert A. Christie, former Lafayette College professor, is serving as executive director of the study.

PENNA. GIRL HAS ROLE IN CHERRY FETE

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania's cherry blossom princess, pretty Elaine M. Fischer of Lancaster, says she is thrilled at the prospect of taking part in Washington's colorful week-long cherry blossom festival.

Elaine, a 20-year-old brunette, was greeted by Pennsylvanians in Washington at a reception Saturday night after being crowned a week before by Rep. Paul B. Dague (R-Pa.) at Lancaster.

Events Begin Tuesday

Well known for her singing and dramatic activities around her home city, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fischer of 301 Rider Ave., Lancaster.

Opening day for the cherry blossom princesses from all the states will see the selection of their military escorts for the week by a giant univac machine. The festival begins Tuesday and runs through Sunday.

The escorts by tradition are selected from the ranks of young officers in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

Huge Parade

Saturday's ceremony is followed by a huge parade, which will feature many bands and marching groups, in which Pennsylvanians will form the largest state group.

Staging of the six-day festival will culminate the work of Edward H. Ring, an Erie, Pa., native who is serving as president of the Conference of State Societies, one of the principal arrangers of the festival. Ring for years has been president of the Pennsylvania State Society of Washington.

Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R) of Farrell will escort Miss Fischer to a fashion show and luncheon for all the princesses on Wednesday.

Gettysburg Drill Team

Pennsylvania's official state band in the big parade on Saturday is the 150-piece marching band of Altoona High School.

Other Keystone State bands participating will be the Pennsylvania Military College ROTC marching band, Chester; Neville Island High School Pittsburgh; Saxton Liberty High School, Saxton; Middleburg Joint High School, Middleburg; Gev. Mifflin High School, Shillington; Muncy High School; Brandywine Heights Joint High School, Tipton; Jeannette High School, and the Cumberland Valley High School, Mechanicsville.

Drill teams will be on hand from the University of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State University, Dickinson College, Gettysburg College, Villanova University and LaSalle College.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astounding statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.* At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

Bullets Handed 6-5 Loss In 11-Inning Contest By Lebanon Valley Saturday

Two singles, a stolen base and a run in the bottom of the 11th inning gave the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley a 6-5 win over the Gettysburg College Bullets Saturday afternoon in Annville. Gettysburg is now 0-2 on the season. The game was Lebanon Valley's opener.

With the count knotted 5-5 after the regulation nine innings, the Bullets placed runners on first and third in the tenth with two out, but a force play on Gordon Kissner stopped the threat. Lebanon Valley threatened in its half. Two men went down in quick fashion. Pitcher Fred Porriño caught the second pitch and lined it to deep right field for a triple, but Dick Rhine popped out to George Burnett ending the frame.

In the top of the 11th the Bullets were retired in order. With one out in the home half of the frame, Mark Wert beat out an infield single and stole second. Brooks Slatcher was fanned by Gettysburg's fourth hurler, Mel Jacobs. Left fielder Jack Sheaffer then lined a drive past third base to send in the winning run.

Muff Many Chances
Throughout the afternoon the Bullets' biggest problem was coming through with clutch hits with men on third base. In the fourth inning Gettysburg loaded the bases with none out, but the next three men went down in order. Again in the fifth the visitors had men on second and third with one out and one run in and were stopped. In the sixth, Kissner and Burnett were out on second and third with one out and again there were no-run producing hits.

The host club took advantage of all three Bullet errors and turned them into runs. Lebanon Valley's first five runs came in the first three frames as they tallied twice in the initial frame and three more in the third. A walk, two Bullet miscues and a sacrifice fly to left enabled Karl Wesolowski and Mark Wert to cross the plate for a 2-0 lead. Singles by Wesolowski and Wert and a double by Slatcher with the aid of a fielder's choice and sacrifice fly produced three more tallies.

FOUR TRAINERS SHIP HORSES TO DERBY MAY 7

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Trainers of the first four finishers in Saturday's Florida Derby made plans today to ship their colts direct to Louisville for the Kentucky Derby on May 7.

Conditioners of Bally Ache, Venetian Way, Victoria Park and Eagle Admiral indicated they would ship direct to Louisville under present plans but will wait for a few days and hope the weather there moderates.

H. J. (Jimmy) Pitt, who trains Bally Ache, said his next start will be in the Derby Trial. Pitt and owner Leonard D. Fruchtman of Toledo, Ohio, had hoped to send Bally Ache against C. S. Jones' Warfare in the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct this month but Warfare injured his left hind ankle and is out.

Warfare, the 2-year-old champion, beat Bally Ache in the Cowdin, Champagne and Garden State Stakes last fall.

Bally Ache ended his winter campaign at Gulfstream Park Saturday with a brilliant score in the Florida Derby. Earlier he won the Hibiscus, Bahamas and Flamingo Stakes.

His Florida Derby margin was a scant nose but jockey Bobby Ussery said Bally Ache had never shown such late speed before.

Gettysburg made it 5-4 with a run in the fifth on singles by Burnett and Youse and an infield miscue. The Bullets knotted the count in the top of the ninth when George Burnett drew a walk and advanced to second on Hoffman's bunt. While LV hurler John Yajko was hesitating on the mound, Burnett raced to third and came streaking home on Yajko's overthrow.

Eight Pitchers Work
Bruce Simpson started on the Bullets with Burnett coming on in the fourth, Dick Hawkins in the sixth and Mel Jacobs, who was charged with the loss, taking over in the eleventh. Steve Wisler started for the Dutchmen, but gave way to Bob Stull in the third, Yajko in the sixth and Fred Porriño in the ninth. Porriño received the win.

Brooks Slatcher was the game's leading hitter as he collected three sacrifices for six trips to the plate. Mark Wert belted out a pair of hits for five at bats. George Burnett and Connie Youse topped the Gettysburg order with a pair of hits each.

This afternoon's scheduled game with Yale University was called off because of the waterlogged condition of the field following Sunday's heavy rains.

The Bullets will resume action Wednesday against powerful Penn State at University Park and on Saturday oppose Temple at Philadelphia.

Floors Baldoni For Early Knockout

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson wanted to use Saturday night's fight with Tony Baldoni as a tuneup for his return bout with Paul Pender. He barely worked up a sweat.

Robinson knocked out Baldoni in one minute, 40 seconds of the first round, flooring him twice. "It wasn't any use continuing," said Robinson. "I guess I'll just have to get my work in the gym."

Robinson will meet Pender April 29 in Boston to try to regain his New York and Massachusetts version of the world middleweight championship.

ROCHESTER, PROVIDENCE WIN SUNDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Rochester Americans haven't been pushed over the brink yet in the American Hockey League's Calder Cup semifinal series. But they're still leaning precariously.

The Amerks avoided elimination Sunday night with a 5-3 victory over the Cleveland Barons after losing to the Barons 7-5 on Saturday night. Cleveland leads the best-of-seven series 3-1.

The Providence Reds won their first game from Springfield in the other series, knocking off the league champions 7-6 in overtime Sunday night. The Indians hold a 2-1 lead after a 2-1 victory Saturday night.

Resume Play Tuesday
Cleveland and Rochester resume play on Tuesday and Providence-Springfield go at it on Wednesday.

Bill Sauder, Stan Smrke and Claude Labrosse scored second period goals for Rochester Sunday night to give the Amerks an unshakable lead over the Barons. Smrke, the league's leading scorer, got two goals.

Stan Baldini's goal at 4:52 of the 10-minute overtime session got the clincher for Providence after Ed Panagabko tied the score for the Reds with one second to play. Providence goalie Bruce Gamble turned aside 48 shots Sunday night and has averaged 53 saves per playoff game.

NATIONAL LOOP READIES FOR EARLY START

By MIKE RATHET

The National League clubs start thinking ahead today to the earliest season openers in the history of major league baseball's senior circuit.

With regular season operations getting under way a week from Tuesday, many of the teams broke camp and began the northward trek with the surprising St. Louis Cardinals clinging to the top of the exhibition standings with a 13-7 record.

Getting a second consecutive routgoing performance from Ron Kline, the Cardinals concluded their Florida phase of training Sunday by defeating the New York Yankees 6-3.

Buhl Holds Senators
Kline, acquired in a trade with Pittsburgh, scattered 10 hits and now has allowed only four runs—two earned—in 28 innings.

Milwaukee's Bob Buhl also went the distance, holding Washington to four hits in the Braves' 3-2 victory while Detroit's Hank Aguirre pitched a six-inning one-hitter for a 1-0 victory over Pittsburgh in a game shortened by rain.

In other day games, San Francisco blasted the Chicago Cubs 14-9, Baltimore beat Kansas City 5-2, Boston edged Cleveland 5-4 in 10 innings, and Los Angeles and Cincinnati were tied 4-4 when a downpour ended the game in the eighth inning.

In a night game, the Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia wound up their three-game series in Puerto Rico with Chicago winning 4-2. The Phils took the first two.

O. ROBERTSON AND WEST HEAD OLYMPIC TEAM

By FRANK PITMAN
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — All-Americans Oscar Robertson and Jerry West head a brilliant cast of seven collegians anchoring the U.S. Olympic basketball team that will play in Rome this summer under the command of Coach Pete Newell of California.

The college stars for the first time shoved aside veteran AAU players to dominate the 12-member team chosen Sunday by the Olympic Basketball Committee. The selections followed the three-day trials here climaxed by the NCAA University all-stars' 124-97 conquest of Peoria's AAU champions in Saturday night's finals before 10,000 fans.

The victory earned the NCAA team six Olympic berths and won for Newell, their 44-year-old towel-chewing coach, the honor of directing the team in the Olympic competition. He'll be assisted by Peoria's Warren Womble, who coached the 1952 Olympic champions.

20 For Robertson

West, 6-3 Comet from Cabin Creek, W.Va., riddled Peoria with a 39-point burst, 24 in the first half, to set an individual high for the trials. Robertson, incomparable playmaker and collegiate scoring leader from Cincinnati, poured in 20 points to take scoring honors for the tryouts. He totaled 72 and West, a senior at West Virginia, was runnerup with 63 in three games.

Also picked from the NCAA team were two 6-foot-11 defensive stars, All-America Darrell Imhoff of California, and Walt Belamy of Indiana; Purdue's 6-6 sophomore Terry Dischinger, who led the Big Ten in scoring, and Texas' 6-2 back court artist, Jay Arnette.

Lucas Picked 7th

All-America Jerry Lucas 6-8 day trials here climaxed by the NCAA champions, is the seventh collegian picked from the field of 96 players.

The four AAU stars named to the team include the only repeater from 1956, Burdette Halderson, 6-8 leading scorer for Bartlesville's (Okla.). The others are 6-8 Bob Boozer and 6-foot Allen Kelley, both of Peoria, and Les Lane, Bartlesville.

Adrian Smith, 6-1 former Kentucky ace, was chosen from the armed forces all-stars.

RED WINGS ARE DEFEATED

DETROIT (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs, says Gordie Howe, will need more than luck to get past the Montreal Canadiens in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup Championship series that begins Thursday night in Montreal.

Howe, long-time star of the Detroit Red Wings, slumped in a corner of the dressing room after his club carried the Maple Leafs to six games before losing a semifinal series.

"The Leafs were lucky against us, and they'll admit it if they're honest," said Howe. "But luck alone won't do much against those Canadiens, I think they have more polished hockey players than Toronto."

Red Wings Fizzled
The Red Wings fizzled in the final period Sunday night, and the Leafs bombed the nets with three goals for a 4-2 decision before a packed Olympia Stadium house of 13,696.

Bob Pulford twice pulled Toronto from behind and Frank Mahovlich got the clincher for the third time in four victories.

Murray Oliver and Norm Ullman scored for Detroit, Oliver getting the opener after five minutes of play and Ullman sending the Wings back into the lead in the first minute of the second period.

3 Killed In Plane Crash Near Camp Hill Sunday; 13 Die In Weekend Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At least 17 persons died accidentally in Pennsylvania over the weekend, including a prominent clergyman, his wife and their pilot who were killed in a plane crash. The toll was the third highest this year.

Traffic accidents claimed 13 lives. A boy was shot to death while target practicing.

The light plane crashed Sunday night in a parking lot in Camp Hill after narrowly missing a group of homes and busy U.S. Route 15 crowded with weekend travelers.

Killed were the Rev. Dr. William H. Alexander, 45, pastor of the First Christian Church of Oklahoma City, Okla.; his wife, Mary Louise, about 36; and the pilot, M. S. Shuman, of Enid, Okla.

Was GOP Chaplain
Dr. Alexander served as national chaplain for the Republican Party when President Eisenhower was elected in 1952. He unsuccessfully ran for the U.S. Senate on the Republican ticket in 1950.

HOLD GIRL AS MASTERMIND IN BURGLARY

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Lillian Reis, who rose from the chorus lines to the ownership of Philadelphia's famed Celebrity Room, and three men are being held in jail here on burglary charges in connection with a theft estimated by police at $378,000, most all cash, and some jewelry.

State police and Capt. Clarence Ferguson, head of Philadelphia's Special Investigations Squad, said Sunday two of the accused admitted under questioning their role in the burglary last August at the home of John Rich, president of the Gilbertson Coal Co. But officers would not identify the two by name.

The 30-year-old Miss Reis allegedly masterminded the plot, police said.

Her alleged accomplices were identified as Ralph Staino Jr., 27, of Philadelphia, floor manager of the Celebrity Room; Robert H. Poulson, 24, also of Philadelphia; and Clyde L. Miller, 53, a former Pottsville resident now living in Forked River, N.J.

Alderman William A. Thompson ordered the four held without bail for a further hearing Friday in Pottsville.

An undercover investigation was conducted for several months.

Were Vacationing

Ferguson identified Miller as the "finger man" who informed Miss Reis that the Rich mansion was a good burglary prospect.

Police said that on the date of the burglary, August 7, the men drove to Reading, Pa., where they allegedly bought tools, including hammers and crowbars.

Ferguson said they then drove to the Rich home, forced a back door and smashed open a basement vault which contained most of the loot.

Rich and his wife were vacationing in Europe. They never made an exact estimate of the loss. They reported the missing cash as in excess of $3,000. Also reported stolen was a diamond bracelet valued at $8,000.

Ferguson said the $378,000 figure was reconstructed from the purported confessions of two of the accused.

He added none of the money has been recovered.

Miss Reis purchased the Celebrity Room last January. Ferguson said the reported selling price ranged from $40,000 to $80,000.

Shows Fast Draw; Shoots His Friend

PITTSBURGH (AP) — William Caton, 19, of East Pittsburgh, strapped a holster to his hip and whipped out a .32 caliber pistol Sunday, demonstrating the cowboy-like fast draw.

He pulled the trigger three times in rapid succession. The third time the weapon went off.

A friend, Thomas Linsensbiger, 16, also of East Pittsburgh, was seriously wounded in the chest and was hospitalized.

Caton said he thought the gun wasn't loaded.

SUNDAY TV HAD HEAVY DOSE OF WISC. PRIMARY

NEW YORK (AP) — Sunday afternoon TV watchers certainly had a dose—even an overdose—of Wisconsin politics.

Presidential hopefuls Hubert H. Humphrey and John F. Kennedy will have their Wisconsin primary fates decided Tuesday when the state's Democratic voters will choose 31 delegates to the party's national convention.

CBS and NBC each presented a candidate in closeup. "Face the Nation" had Kennedy, who looked well-groomed, well-tailored and earnest and answered the questions—even the tough ones—in a forthright manner. "Meet the Press" had Humphrey, suffering from a touch of laryngitis but still highly vocal and articulate.

Can Be Overdose

I missed much of the Kennedy interview because I was dialing over to ABC's "Campaign Round-up." This is a sort of talk show by network reporters on political issues in various sections of the country, with emphasis, of course, on Wisconsin.

Earlier CBS devoted its Sunday morning "FYI" show to Wisconsin trends. Then NBC's "Time: Present" came along with a feature about the way the two candidates' friends and relatives were helping to campaign.

All this public service programming is very enlightening, but it can be overdose. By the time we've gone through the conventions and have a couple of real candidates, their campaigns may seem a bit anticlimactic.

Grim Drama

"Alas, Babylon," Sunday night's Playhouse 90 production on CBS, was a grim, frightening drama about a few men and women who survive the first explosions in nuclear warfare.

Tragedy was routine: a little girl blinded by a faraway blast, an older woman dead because there was no insulin, food spoiled by lack of refrigeration, materials contaminated, looting, hording—and worst of all, despair and resignation by the survivors.

Excellent Cast

The cast was excellent: Don Murray, Kim Hunter, Barbara Rush, Judith Evelyn and Dana Andrews.

Even if it was a rather grisly experience, the drama made many viewers, including this one, start thinking about a place to hide—or whether hiding was worth the effort.

LAWN MOWER FIRE

APOLLO, Pa. (AP) — An Armstrong County youth was severely burned Sunday when a power lawnmower on which he was riding overturned and the gasoline in it caught fire.

Rickey Lee Emahiser, 11, of Apollo R. 3, was admitted to Citizens General Hospital in New Kensington with burns on his hands, back, thigh and legs.

PA. PUPILS TO COMPARE RED, U.S. SYSTEMS

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania high school pupils will start comparing Democratic and Communist societies under a new mandatory course of study starting next fall.

Dr. Joseph P. Gavenonis, former state commander of the American Legion and a bureau director in the Public Instruction Department, said Sunday night an outline of the course will be sent to county superintendents and high school principals next month.

It is being whipped into final shape by superintendent Charles H. Boehm, Gavenonis said.

Three Years' Work

The course is the result of three years' work on the part of Gavenonis. Such instruction has been the goal of the American Legion for years.

"Rather than attempting a searching look at the philosophy of Communism, the course instead will compare individual freedoms under the world's two great ideologies—democracy and communism," said Gavenonis.

The study will be part of a course entitled "Problems of Democracy" now offered to seniors. The department will suggest that two weeks out of the school year be devoted to it, Gavenonis said.

Sees "Great Need"

The department can mandate such instruction under a 1952 revision to the school code. Boehm already has told school districts that the course should be included on the curriculum.

Asked about the need for the instruction, Gavenonis replied:

"From all the evidence I believe there is a great need for it. We have only to recall what happened in Korea, where some of our soldiers defected under brainwashing, to verify this. Furthermore, there have been many complaints that the American boy doesn't know enough about the American way of life to put up an argument against communism."

DR. LEVANT DIES

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Dr. Howard Levant, brother of Oscar Levant, pianist and television personality.

Dr. Levant, a dentist and lifelong resident of Pittsburgh, died Sunday in Montefiore Hospital. He was 55.

School Teacher Installed At York

Mrs. Naomi C. Schwartz, first grade teacher at Rolling Acres Elementary School, Littlestown, was installed as royal matron of York Court 38, Order of Amaranth in Gethsemane Hall, York, Thursday evening.

Installing officer was Mrs. Jane Charles and installing marshals, Mrs. Grace Myers and Helen Keeney, all of York. The retiring royal matron was Mrs. J. Ray Reindollar, Littlestown, who served as crowning matron in the coronation ceremony for her sister, Mrs. Schwartz, during the crowning ceremony.

Find Bodies

BOSTON (AP)—Police are looking for a man who registered in two Boston hotels over the weekend and left behind a dead woman in each of his rooms.

Police said autopsies showed no signs of injury or violence on either body. Chemical tests were ordered to determine the possibility of poison.

The man registered under the same name at both hotels and gave a fictitious address at Norwood, Mass.

The women were identified as Anna Kennedy, 74, of the South End, and Joan Pelechewicz, 24, of the Roxbury section.

A register showed the man and the Kennedy woman entered the Hotel Berkeley in the South End late Thursday. Hotel personnel found her dead on a bed at 3 p.m. Friday.

Several hours later the same man registered at Hotel Broadway, several blocks away, with Mrs. Pelechewicz. Her body was discovered at 12:45 p.m. Saturday. She was identified by her husband, George.

National Library Week

By MRS. DEAN H. ASQUITH

One of the great delights of childhood was finding a book so absorbing that a towheaded girl forgot who she was and where she was. To have found a story so intensely real that one's everyday life came back as a surprise was a pleasure that any adult might well envy. I find myself judging a book or a movie by "does it take me completely out of myself?"

I remember when my sister and I read avidly through the Doctor Doolittle series, we were positive the good doctor was an authentic person. We constantly pestered my mother with "Are you sure he isn't real?" Gub-Gub, the pig who was so desirous of letters that he mailed himself banana skins, has remained with me through the years. I never clip a coupon from a magazine but I feel Gub-Gubish. Recently, I mailed a friend two washing instruction labels for her daughter's domestic science assignment, and I couldn't resist putting "Gub-Gub" on the return address, it somehow seemed so typical of the little pig's mail.

Had Early Reading

My mother, who believes in reading to babies before they can talk, spoon fed us Hurlbert's "Story Of The Bible" and Beatrix Potter's enchanting animal tales by the time we were getting solid foods. Peter Rabbit is common lore, but how many times since childhood we've cried like the Tailor of Gloucester, "Alack, I am undone. No more twist." Or have been like Tom Kitten

"shedding buttons right and left." Or thought of Mrs. Tiggy-Winkle with prickles coming through her cap or Jeremy Fisher's "slippy-sloppy" larder.

The Pooh books came along in time for my younger brother and sister. Somehow, tiny Piglet, jumpy Roo and dismal Eeyore still tickle me to the core though you'd think they would have lost their charm after all the rereading I did for my children. Like Pooh I "like a little something at eleven o'clock in the morning," but I'm careful it's not too much because I wouldn't want, like Pooh, to have my back legs used as a towel-horse.

I think it was Lewis Carroll's Red Queen who had to run just as fast as she could to remain in the same place. Surely, there isn't a mother of small children who, struggling with myriad jobs, hasn't felt exactly like the panting Queen.

There isn't a week goes by some book friend of my childhood returns to make me smile.

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP)—A Jewish leader said Saturday that 500 Jewish survivors of the Agadir earthquake have been turned out of the Moroccan army barracks here and left to fend for themselves.

Meyer Obadia, president of the Casablanca Jewish community, said the Jews were ordered to leave the La Jonquiere barracks after being given asylum there for three weeks.

START STUDY OF EDUCATION IN THIS STATE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania today starts a sweeping study to see what steps are needed to put its education system on a modern day footing.

The monumental task has been assigned to a special committee named by Gov. Lawrence to go over education needs at all levels, especially in the area of school finances.

The committee, headed by Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis, scheduled a noon day luncheon to formally launch the study. An organization session was planned in late afternoon.

School Finances Up
One of the committee's legislative members Sen. Paul L. Wagner (R-Schuylkill), voiced a hope that the study would produce recommendations on which the 1961 Legislature can act.

Interviewed Sunday by the Associated Press, Wagner said the group must develop specific recommendations on school finances if it expects action from the General Assembly.

"What this committee must do is to give us a box with a price on it and tell us what its contents are before the Legislature can be expected to approve any additional spending," said Wagner. He is chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

He urged the group to concentrate not only on whether additional school aid is needed but also on whether available funds are being spent wisely by individual school districts.

Word Of Caution
"Let's see first what is being spent on the absolute basic things as compared to the extras before we start calling for more money," he added.

He cautioned the committee against developing recommendations for more spending without saying where it is to occur. The committee's work will be carried out by eight task forces assisted by professional "chiefs of staff" from the Department of Public Instruction and experts in

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made

Some "Rotten Egg" Odor In Roast Beef

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Food connoisseurs may be surprised to learn that hydrogen sulfide—source of the classic "rotten egg" smell—and ammonia are among compounds present in the aroma of cooked beef.

This was discovered by biochemist Professor Frank M. Strong and graduate student Maureen of the University of Wisconsin.

The two normally unpleasant odors were found in exceedingly small amounts in the beef aroma.

WANT SURVEY OF CREEK IN CENTRE CO.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs wants a private engineering firm to survey the pollution problem on Spring Creek in Centre County.

Working up a two-day convention here Saturday, the Sportsmen adopted a resolution calling on the State Sanitary Water Board to undertake the survey.

The State Fish Commission has no objection to the creek. The Sportsmen urged that engineers and aquatic biologists study all possible solutions and the cost of each.

Hatcheries Periled
Everett Henderson, first vice president, said the hatcheries near Bellefonte would be destroyed if the pollution problem is left unattended. The facilities are estimated to be worth a million dollars.

The sportsmen defeated a resolution to prohibit a doe season. Other resolutions adopted by the convention would:

Require the State Water and Resources Board to hold up a permit for creating a body of water with a surface area of more than 50 acres until the owner agreed to allow free public fishing.

Other Measures
Endorse Fish Commission efforts to gain fishways at dams on the Susquehanna River to permit migration of fish.
Remove from political handling all money received from the sale of game and fish licenses and hire game and fish commission employees on a nonpolitical basis.
Work for immediate strengthening

each of the areas under study. Tentative plans call for holding public hearings on various subjects.

Dr. Robert A. Christie, former Lafayette College professor, is serving as executive director of the study.

PENNA. GIRL HAS ROLE IN CHERRY FETE

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania's cherry blossom princess, Elaine M. Fischer of Lancaster, says she is thrilled at the prospect of taking part in Washington's colorful week-long cherry blossom festival.

Elaine, a 20-year-old brunette, was greeted by Pennsylvanians in Washington at a reception Saturday night after being crowned a week before by Rep. Paul B. Dague (R-Pa.) at Lancaster.

Events Begin Tuesday
Well known for her singing and dramatic activities around her home city, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fischer of 301 Rider Ave., Lancaster.

Opening day for the cherry blossom princesses from all the states will see the selection of their military escorts for the week by a giant univac machine. The festival begins Tuesday and runs through Sunday.

The escorts by tradition are selected from the ranks of young officers in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

Huge Parade
Saturday's ceremony is followed by a huge parade which will feature many bands and marching groups in which Pennsylvanians will form the largest state group.

Staging of the six-day festival will culminate the work of Edward H. Ring, an Erie, Pa. native who is serving as president of the Conference of State Societies, one of the principal arrangers of the festival. Ring for years has been president of the Pennsylvania State Society of Washington.

Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R) of Farrell will escort Miss Fischer to a fashion show and luncheon for all the princesses on Wednesday.

Gettysburg Drill Team
Pennsylvania's official state band in the big parade on Saturday is the 150-piece marching band of Altoona High School. Other Keystone State bands participating will be the Pennsylvania Military College ROTC marching band, Chester Neville Island High School, Pittsburgh, Saxton Liberty High School, Saxton, Middleburg Joint High School, Middleburg, Gr. Mifflin High School, Shillington, Muncy High School, Brandywine Heights Joint High School, Topton, Jeannette High School, and the Cumberland Valley High School, Mechanicsville.

Drill teams will be on hand from the University of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State University, Dickinson College, Gettysburg College, Villanova University, and LaSalle College.

ing of the state antipollution laws, increasing penalties and enforcement.

Back legislation to have state game and fish commissioners elected in general elections.

Congressional law states that the American flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement.

Products of the C. H. Musselman Company, Biglerville, are shown prominently displayed in the U.S. exhibit at the first World Agriculture Fair in New Delhi, India. When the fair closed recently an estimated 3½ million people had visited the American pavilion which told the story of growth and productivity in a free economy.

News Briefs

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Minutes after being told today he had won the equivalent of $16,800 in a state lottery, Harold B. Carney, a magistrate, dropped dead. He was 61 and had been suffering from heart trouble.

PANAMA (AP) — Colombia and Panama have agreed to work together to finish the Pan American Highway. President Alberto Lleras Camargo of Colombia and President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. of Panama signed a pledge Sunday to negotiate the financing of the highway's last leg, on both sides of their common border.

LONDON (AP) — A British newspaper said today an American woman scientist is helping the Chinese Communists build their first atomic bomb, and they plan to explode it in June or July.

The Daily Mail, in a dispatch from Hong Kong, said the woman was Joan Chase Hinton, 39, a former University of Chicago student who went to China as a welfare worker in 1948. Her mother operated the Putney School in Vermont.

ELECTRICITY

IS YOUR fast and flameless WAY TO COOK!

On the busiest days—how you'll appreciate the safe and speedy help of your new electric range! Just set the controls . . . ovens, broiler or surface units quickly heat to the desired temperature. And it's controlled heat—even and accurate, for dependable results.

What's more, a modern electric range puts the heat just where you want it—in the food, not in your kitchen. And there's no pilot to light—no flame to smoke or go out. No waste, either. Electric cooking's the ideal way to get better results, with less time and work.

In every way, electric cooking is better—cleaner—and more enjoyable. For a close look at the new and wonderful features, visit your dealer during the All-Electric Kitchen Carnival!

NEWSMEN AWED BY RARE KREMLIN ART

AP Newsfeatures

The telephone call to the Associated Press bureau in Moscow was from the Soviet committee for cultural relations. "Tomorrow," the caller said casually, "correspondents will be welcome to tour the hitherto closed areas of the Kremlin."

The invitation was treated more than casually by Western newsmen, who fully realized the Russians must have something they were eager to show the world.

Well Pleased

The Westerners weren't disappointed. They were led through ornately decorated halls where hung wonderfully restored religious art treasures, and into private chapels of the imperial families of the past. They were shown a beautifully preserved church:

The Church of the Resurrection of St. Lazarus, the oldest building in Moscow erected in the 14th Century; the Church of the Sacred Chasuble of St. Mary, the Church of the Resurrection with its gold clock-chandelier presented by Charles XI of Sweden, the Church of the Miraculous Icon of the Savior which has an altar screen of carved oxidized silver, and the Church of the Crucifixion, decorated by Pozharsky one of Russia's most famous icon painters.

Tucked into an obscure corner of St. Vladimir's Hall — where guests arrive for Kremlin banquets — were the thrones of the Romanovs.

Restoration of the Kremlin, the guides explained proudly, is an ever-continuing process and is even more prize treasures of Moscow's past will be put on view in the future.

SAVED BY THE LAW

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — O. V. Norris, 55, picked George E. Emerson, 27, from a police lineup as the man who robbed a grocery store where Norris worked.

Then Norris said to an officer, "I'll give you $50 to let me take one punch at him."

The officer refused.

GIRLS KNOW SIGNALS

CENTER CROSS, Va. (AP) — Lights blinked on the Rappahannock River. They were seen by girls of Troop 71 of the Girl Scouts, who had been studying signals at their Camp Shangri-La. They recognized the distress signal and guided two lost men ashore with flashlights.

In 1953, horse racing produced $222,049,651 in revenue for all the states in the U. S.

CHIEF DELEGATE

— New York attorney Fredrick M. Eaton heads United States delegation at the disarmament conference being held in Geneva, Switzerland.

NEAT HAUL

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A purse containing $225 in cash and a $150 gold compact was stolen during a party at a Tucson home.

Several guests said they saw a young man calmly rifling the purses but thought he was just a son of one of the party goers.

TEACHER'S PET

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP) — Troup, a spaniel, was given a grade of A in biology at Lynchburg College. He attended classes regularly for two years and not only showed interest in lectures but was termed the top student in seeking specimens on field trips.

JAIL GOES MODERN

CHESTER, Ill. (AP) — The Randolph County Jail has been remodeled for the first time in its 110-year history. Sheriff John Sams supervised while workmen installed modern plumbing and painted the jail pink.

Nudes In Soviet Art Show Make A Rare Appearance

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP) — If you walk down Unter den Linden in Communist East Berlin, your eye may be caught by a large oil painting of two female nudes just inside the window of an exhibit called "contemporary Soviet Art."

Nudes are comparatively rare in Soviet painting. There is a puritan tradition in communism that frowns on them. Nor is immediately clear how they serve the victory of the party in the class struggle — the only valid purpose of art, in Marxist eyes.

The nude, unique among the 151 exhibits, is called "A Warm Evening" and was done in 1957 by Vladimir Gavrillov, a 34-year-old Moscow artist. Somewhat impressionist in style, it seems about as far as a Soviet artist can safely go and stay within the official doctrine of "socialist realism."

Only Example

No abstract or otherwise modernist paintings are on view.

According to the official catalogue, Socialist realism has room for depictions of "the new life in cities and villages, the heroic past of the country, the beauty of nature, the fullness of its life." Under these headings fall most of the pictures in the show.

In contrast with the usual Western idea of Soviet painting, the exhibit abounds in simple, unpolitical subjects. A few typical titles: "Dawn," "Herd of Cattle: the First Green," "Harbor in the Far North," "A Cool Day," "On the Riverside."

Other Subjects

There are also some industrial landscapes, groups of steel workers and studies of freight trains. Mostly these are not overt propaganda. There is even one picture of a church, though nothing that could be called religious art.

Comparatively little of the work shown treats the kind of subjects Stalin used to love—peasants waiting for Lenin's funeral train, soldiers starting up from the trenches to hear a decree on peace.

Political Figure

A sculptured head of Mao Tse-tung is the only representation of a living political figure. Khrushchev is ignored, and so is Stalin.

There are pleasant sketches of children, like the one chosen for the cover of the catalogue, an amusing snow scene called "Warm Mitten — Cold Hands."

By Western standards the style of the work is much outdated and lacks bite. The subjects seem to be drawing closer to ideas prevailing in the West — in many cases the ideas that prevailed half a century ago.

The idea, whether conscious propaganda or not, seems to be to give a kindlier, more lyrical image of Russian life.

Still, as at past shows of this kind, admission is free and attendance scanty.

"The road distance between New York and San Francisco—using turnpikes — is 3,693 miles."

3 Killed In Plane Crash Near Camp Hill Sunday; 13 Die In Weekend Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At least 17 persons died accidentally in Pennsylvania over the weekend, including a prominent clergyman, his wife and their pilot who were killed in a plane crash. The toll was the third highest this year.

Traffic accidents claimed 13 lives. A boy was shot to death while target practicing.

The light plane crashed Sunday night in a parking lot in Camp Hill after narrowly missing a group of homes and busy U.S. Route 15 crowded with weekend travelers.

Killed were the Rev. Dr. William H. Alexander, 45, pastor of the First Christian Church of Oklahoma City, Okla.; his wife, Mary Louise, about 36; and the pilot, M. S. Shuman, of Enid, Okla.

Was GOP Chaplain
Dr. Alexander served as national chaplain for the Republican Party when President Eisenhower was elected in 1952. He unsuccessfully ran for the U.S. Senate on the Republican ticket in 1950.

The other victims:
Tionesta—Willard E. Dyer Jr., 31, of Toledo, Ohio, Saturday night when his car left a road near this Forest County community and hit a group of trees.

Mayfield — Ernest Durst, 20, Carbondale, Saturday night in a two-car crash in this Lackawanna County community.

Plunges Into Creek
Reading—Barry Lee Lackwood, 17, West Reading, Saturday as the car he was driving left a road in Spring Twp. and plunged 40 feet into a creek. The car landed on its top in five feet of water. Two companions escaped.

Philadelphia—Gerard Haran, 34, of suburban Wayne, when his car hit a utility pole Saturday.

Homer City—John Rosa, 18, shot to death Saturday while target practicing with a friend in this Indiana County community.

Troy—David Priest, 23, Sunday in a crash involving two cars and two trucks near this Bradford County community.

Overtaken On Turnpike
Shippensburg — Mrs. Ollie Carlton, 78, Chicago, Saturday when the car in which she was riding blew a tire and overturned on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near here.

Philadelphia — Mrs. Lucille Anderson, 27, Sunday when the car in which she was riding slammed into a granite retaining wall on the plaza of the Benjamin Franklin Bridge to Camden, N. J.

Pittsburgh—Daniel C. Wright, about 30, of Beaver Falls, Saturday in suburban Ben Avon when his car hit a pole.

HOLD GIRL AS MASTERMIND IN BURGLARY

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Lillian Reis, who rose from the chorus lines to the ownership of Philadelphia's famed Celebrity Room, and three men are being held in jail here on burglary charges in connection with a theft estimated by police at $378,000, most all cash and some jewelry.

State police and Capt. Clarence Ferguson, head of Philadelphia's Special Investigations Squad, said Sunday two of the accused admitted under questioning their role in the burglary last August at the home of John Rich, president of the Gilbertson Coal Co. But officers would not identify the two by name.

The 30-year-old Miss Reis allegedly masterminded the plot, police said.

Her alleged accomplices were identified as Ralph Staino Jr., 27, of Philadelphia, floor manager of the Celebrity Room; Robert H. Poulson, 24, also of Philadelphia; and Clyde L. Miller, 53, a former Pottsville resident now living in Forked River, N.J.

Alderman William A. Thompson ordered the four held without bail for a further hearing Friday in Pottsville.

An undercover investigation was conducted for several months.

Were Vacationing
Ferguson identified Miller as the "finger man" who informed Miss Reis that the Rich mansion was a good burglary prospect.

Police said that on the date of the burglary, August 7, the men drove to Reading, Pa., where they allegedly bought tools, including hammers and crowbars. Ferguson said they then drove to the Rich home, forced a back door and smashed open a basement vault which contained most of the loot.

Rich and his wife were vacationing in Europe. They never made an exact estimate of the loss. They reported the missing cash as in excess of $3,000. Also reported stolen was a diamond bracelet valued at $8,000.

Ferguson said the $378,000 figure was reconstructed from the purported confessions of two of the accused.

He added none of the money has been recovered.

Miss Reis purchased the Celebrity Room last January. Ferguson said the reported selling price ranged from $40,000 to $80,000.

Shows Fast Draw; Shoots His Friend

PITTSBURGH (AP)—William Caton, 19, of East Pittsburgh, strapped a holster to his hip and whipped out a .32 caliber pistol Sunday, demonstrating the cowboy-like fast draw.

He pulled the trigger three times in rapid succession. The third time the weapon went off.

A friend, Thomas Linsensbiger, 16, also of East Pittsburgh, was seriously wounded in the chest and was hospitalized.

Caton said he thought the gun wasn't loaded.

SUNDAY TV HAD HEAVY DOSE OF WISC. PRIMARY

NEW YORK (AP)—Sunday afternoon TV watchers certainly had a dose—even an overdose—of Wisconsin politics.

Presidential hopefuls Hubert H. Humphrey and John F. Kennedy will have their Wisconsin primary fates decided Tuesday when the state's Democratic voters will choose 31 delegates to the party's national convention.

CBS and NBC each presented a candidate in closeup. "Face the Nation" had Kennedy, who looked well-groomed, well-tailored and earnest and answered the questions—even the tough ones—in a forthright manner. "Meet the Press" had Humphrey, suffering from a touch of laryngitis but still highly vocal and articulate.

Can Be Overdone
I missed much of the Kennedy interview because I was dialing over to ABC's "Campaign Round-up." This is a sort of talk by network reporters on politics in various sections of the country, with emphasis, of course, on Wisconsin.

Earlier CBS devoted its Sunday morning "FYI" show to Wisconsin trends. Then NBC's "Time: Present" came along with a feature about the way the two candidates' friends and relatives were helping to campaign.

All this public service programming is very enlightening, but it can be overdone. By the time we've gone through the conventions and have a couple of real candidates, their campaigns may seem a bit anticlimactic.

Grim Drama
"Alas, Babylon" Sunday night's Playhouse 90 production on CBS, was a grim, frightening drama about a few men and women who survive the first explosions in nuclear warfare.

Tragedy was routine: a little girl blinded by a faraway blast, an older woman dead because there was no insulin, food spoiled by lack of refrigeration, materials contaminated, looting, hording—and worst of all, despair and resignation by the survivors.

Excellent Cast
The cast was excellent: Don Murray, Kim Hunter, Barbara Rush, Judith Evelyn and Dana Andrews.

Even if it was a rather grisly experience, the drama made many viewers, including this one, start thinking about a place to hide—or whether hiding was worth the effort.

Recommended tonight: "Oscar Night in Hollywood," NBC, 10:30—A closeup of the stars before the awards ceremonies: Oscar awards, NBC, 10:30-12—32nd annual presentation of the motion picture industry's top honors.

PA. PUPILS TO COMPARE RED, U.S. SYSTEMS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania high school pupils will start comparing Democratic and Communist societies under a new mandatory course of study starting next fall.

Dr. Joseph P. Gavenonis, former state commander of the American Legion and a bureau director in the Public Instruction Department, said Sunday night an outline of the course will be sent to county superintendents and high school principals next month.

It is being whipped into final shape by superintendent Charles H. Boehm, Gavenonis said.

Three Years' Work
The course is the result of three years' work on the part of Gavenonis. Such instruction has been the goal of the American Legion for years.

"Rather than attempting a searching look at the philosophy of Communism, the course instead will compare individual freedoms under the world's two great ideologies—democracy and communism," said Gavenonis.

The study will be part of a course entitled "Problems of Democracy" now offered to seniors. The department will suggest that two weeks out of the school year be devoted to it, Gavenonis said.

Sees "Great Need"
The department can mandate such instruction under a 1952 revision to the school code. Boehm already has told school districts that the course should be included in the curriculum.

Asked about the need for the instruction, Gavenonis replied: "From all the evidence I believe there is a great need for it. We have only to recall what happened in Korea, where some of our soldiers defected under brainwashing, to verify this. Furthermore, there have been many complaints that the American boy doesn't know enough about the American way of life to put up an argument against communism."

DR. LEVANT DIES

School Teacher Installed At York

Mrs. Naomi C. Schwartz, first grade teacher at Rolling Acres Elementary School, Littlestown, was installed as royal matron of York Court 38, Order of Amaranth in Gethsemane Hall, York, Thursday evening.

Installing officer was Mrs. Jane Charles and installing marshals, Mrs. Grace Myers and Helen Keeney, all of York. The retiring royal matron was Mrs. J. Ray Reindollar, Littlestown, who served as crowning matron in the coronation ceremony for her sister, Mrs. Schwartz, during the crowning ceremony.

FIND BODIES IN 2 HOTELS

BOSTON (AP)—Police are looking for a man who registered in two Boston hotels over the weekend and left behind a dead woman in each of his rooms.

Police said autopsies showed no signs of injury or violence on either body. Chemical tests were ordered to determine the possibility of poison.

The man registered under the same name at both hotels and gave a fictitious address at Norwood, Mass.

The women were identified as Anna Kennedy, 74, of the South End, and Joan Pelechowicz, 24, of the Roxbury section.

A register showed the man and the Kennedy woman entered the Hotel Berkeley in the South End late Thursday. Hotel personnel found her dead on a bed at 3 p.m. Friday.

Several hours later, the same man registered at Hotel Broadway, several blocks away, with Mrs. Pelechowicz. Her body was discovered at 12:45 p.m. Saturday. She was identified by her husband, George.

National Library Week

By MRS. DEAN H. ASQUITH
One of the great delights of childhood was finding a book so absorbing that a towheaded girl forgot who she was and where she was. To have found a story so intensely real that one's everyday life came back as a surprise was a pleasure that any adult might well envy. I find myself judging a book or a movie by "does it take me completely out of myself?"

I remember when my sister and I read avidly through the Doctor Doodittle series, we were positive the good doctor was an authentic person. We constantly pestered my mother with "Are you sure he isn't real?" Gub-Gub, the pig who was so desirous of letters that he mailed himself banana skins, has remained with me through the years. I never clip a coupon from a magazine but I feel Gub-Gubish. Recently, I mailed a friend two washing instruction labels for her daughter's domestic science assignment, and I couldn't resist putting "Gub-Gub" on the return address, it somehow seemed so typical of the little pig's mail.

Had Early Reading
My mother, who believes in reading to babies before they can talk, spoon fed us: Hubert's "Story of the Bible" and Beatrix Potter's enchanting animal tales by the time we were getting solid foods. Peter Rabbit is common lore, but how many times since childhood we've cried like the Tailor of Gloucester, "Alack, I am undone. No more twist." Or have been like Tom Kitten

"shedding buttons right and left." Or thought of Mrs. Tiggy-Winkle with prickles coming through her cap or Jeremy Fisher's "slippy-sloppy" larder.

The Pooh books came along in time for my younger brother and sister. Somehow, tiny Piglet, jumpy Roo and dismal Eeyore still tickle me to the core though you'd think they would have lost their charm after all the rereading I did for my children. Like Pooh I "like a little something at eleven o'clock in the morning," but I'm careful it's not too much because I wouldn't want, like Pooh to have my back legs used as a towel-horse.

I think it was Lewis Carroll's Red Queen who had to run just as fast as she could to remain in the same place. Surely, there isn't a mother of small children who, struggling with myriad jobs, hasn't felt exactly like the panting Queen.

There isn't a week goes by some book friend of my childhood returns to make me smile.

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP)—A Jewish leader said Saturday that 500 Jewish survivors of the Agadir earthquake have been turned out of the Moroccan army barracks here and left to fend for themselves.

Meyer Obadia, president of the Casablanca Jewish community, said the Jews were ordered to leave the La Jonquiere barracks after being given asylum there for three weeks.

DO YOU HAVE ARTHRITIS?

Here is a message you will want to read.

Your doctor can tell you there is absolutely NO KNOWN CURE for arthritis. Medical research specialists are now engaged in several projects which, it is felt, will ultimately help in finding a cure, but as yet none has been found. Naturally, we all live in hope they will be successful, but until that time we must be content to get the best relief possible. Right now there is a fast, safe and effective relieving agent available called Provo. Provo's ingredients have been used in hospitals and clinics, prescribed by doctors, and have helped scores of men and women to lead happy and full lives. You can be sure nothing is faster, safer or has been proven more effective than Provo for a temporary easing of a minor arthritic condition or its related diseases... rheumatism, neuritis, sciatica, lumbago and bursitis. And it's wonderful for backache and every-day muscular aches and pains, too. Try Provo today. Ask your druggist for a generous 75 tablet TRIAL SIZE BOTTLE. You must be satisfied with the results or your purchase price will be refunded by the maker. There are larger, economy sizes also, for continued use.

OSCAR NIGHT FOR MOVIES IS ON AIR AT 10:30

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tonight is Oscar night and the nation, via television, will get a look at the prettiest bunch of unemployed workers in history.

The month-old actors strike will put a pall over the 32nd annual Academy Awards but the public won't see it. The 90-minute show—NBC-TV 10:30 p.m., EST—promises to be as gay and glamorous as ever.

If more time is needed, an extra 30 minutes will be tagged on the end. Last year the two-hour show found itself with 20 minutes of embarrassing dead air.

NEWSMEN AWED BY RARE KREMLIN ART

AP Newsfeatures
The telephone call to the Associated Press bureau in Moscow was from the Soviet committee for cultural relations "Tomorrow," the caller said casually, "correspondents will be welcome to tour the hitherto closed areas of the Kremlin."

The invitation was treated more than casually by Western newsmen who fully realized the Russians must have something they were eager to show the world.

Well Pleased
The Westerners weren't disappointed. They were led through ornately decorated halls where hung wonderfully restored religious art treasures, and into private chapels of the imperial families of the past. They were shown a beautifully preserved church.

The Church of the Resurrection of St. Lazarus, the oldest building in Moscow erected in the 14th Century, the Church of the Sacred Chastity of St. Mary, the Church of the Resurrection with its gold clock chandelier presented by Charles XI of Sweden, the Church of the Miraculous Icon of the Savior which has an altar screen of carved oxidized silver, and the Church of the Crucifixion, decorated by Pozharsky one of Russia's most famous icon painters.

Tucked into an obscure corner of St. Vladimir's Hall — where guests arrive for Kremlin banquets — were the thrones of the Romanovs. Restoration of the Kremlin, the guides explained proudly, is an ever-continuing process and said even more prize treasures of Moscow's past will be put on view in the future.

SAVED BY THE LAW

PHOENIX, Ariz (AP) — O V Norris, 55, picked George E. Emerson, 27, from a police lineup as the man who robbed a grocery store where Norris worked. Then Norris said to an officer, "I'll give you $50 to let me take one punch at him." The officer refused.

GIRLS KNOW SIGNALS

LIGHTS BLINKED ON THE Rappahannock River They were seen by girls of Troop 71 of the Girl Scouts who had been studying signals at their Camp Shadrigh. They recognized the distress signal and guided two lost men ashore with flashlights.

In 1938, horse racing produced $222,049,651 in revenue for all the states in the U. S.

CHIEF DELEGATE

NEAT HAUL

TUCSON, Ariz (AP) — A purse containing $225 in cash and a $150 gold compact was stolen during a party at a Tucson home.

Several guests said they saw a young man calmly rifling the purses but thought he was just a son of one of the party goers.

TEACHER'S PET

LYNCHBURG, Va (AP) — Trouter, a biology, was given a grade of A in science at Lynchburg College. He attended classes regularly for two years and not only showed interest in lectures but was termed the top student in seeking specimens on field trips.

JAIL GOES MODERN

CHESTER, Ill (AP) — The Randolph County Jail has been remodeled for the first time in its 110-year history. Sheriff John Sams supervised the workmen installed modern plumbing and painted the jail pink.

Nudes In Soviet Art Show Make A Rare Appearance

By CARL HARTMAN
BERLIN (AP) — If you walk down Unter den Linden in Communist East Berlin, your eye may be caught by a large oil painting of two female nudes just inside the window of an exhibit called "Contemporary Soviet Art."

Nudes are comparatively rare in Soviet painting. There is a puritan tradition in communism that frowns on them. Nor is immediately clear how they serve the victory of the party in the class struggle — the only valid purpose of art, in Marxist eyes.

The nude, unique among the 151 exhibits, is called "A Warm Evening" and was done in 1957 by Vladimir Gavrilov, a 34-year-old Moscow artist. Somewhat impressionist in style it seems about as far as a Soviet artist can safely go and stay within the official doctrine of "socialist realism."

Only Example
No abstract or otherwise modernist paintings are on view.

According to the official catalogue Socialist realism has room for depictions of "the heroic life in cities and villages, the brave past of the country, the beauty of nature, the fullness of its life." Under these headings fall most of the pictures in the show.

In contrast with the usual Western idea of Soviet painting, the exhibit abounds in simple unpolitical subjects. A few typical titles: "Dawn," "Herd of Cattle," "First Green," "Harbor in the Far North," "A Cool Day," "On the Riverside."

Other Subjects
There are also some industrial landscapes, groups of steel workers and studies of freight trains. Mostly these are not overt propaganda. There is even one picture of a church, though noting that could be called religious art.

Comparatively little of the work shown treats the kind of subjects Stalin used to love—peasants waiting for Lenin's funeral train, soldiers starting up from the trenches to hear a decree on peace.

I heard one guide describe these as products of "the older generation." Propaganda themes are still there, perhaps a bit more subtly handled than in the past. One painting called "Out of the Tent into the New House" is part of the campaign to attract young people to the new lands in Siberia.

It shows two families in a single room with a minimum of furniture but it gets across the point that the pioneers don't all have to live under canvas.

Political Figure
A sculptured head of Mao Tse-tung is the only representation of a living political figure. Khrushchev is ignored and so is Stalin.

There are pleasant sketches of children, like the one chosen for the cover of the catalogue, an amusing snow scene called "Warm Mittens — Cold Hands."

By Western standards the style of the work is much outdated and lacks bite. The subjects seem to be drawing closer to ideas prevailing in the West — in many cases the ideas that prevailed half a century ago.

The idea, whether conscious propaganda or not, seems to be to give a kinder, more lyrical image of Russian life.

Still, as at past shows of this kind, admission is free and attendance scanty.

"The road distance between New York and San Francisco—using turnpikes — is 3,683 miles."

AP REPORTER SELECTS NOTES FROM MAILBAG

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

To raise a child is a great reach of dollars as well as dearsness. Someone has figured that to discipline a son or daughter from diaper to college degree now costs $29,204 and enough tears.

But the thump in the throat of fondness is worth it at one moment of achievement. All the gray years of denial reach a sunshine reward.

Nature note: A polar bear has the same number of teeth on each side. Put in your own finger to be sure.

Bubblin' to Paris: We measure miles by habits. If you are an incessant smoker, the distance today between America and Europe is less than the puffs in one package of cigarettes. The hostesses of Air France have figured out that on a jet flight you eat one third of the distance. While drinking one glass of champagne you go 150 miles.

"Bow To Nicety"
A bow to nicety: In 1850 the census taker asked whether you were a pauper, had idiots in your house or convicts in your family. They won't ask these questions in 1960.

For students of elections: Is it true that, beginning in 1840, every U.S. president elected in a year divisible by 20 died in office? This is the income-measuring month when the price of patriotism is painful but must be paid from the testimony of the pocketbook. Everybody bleeds from both purse and purpose now. And I find graphic this borrowed description of the Eiffel Tower—the Empire State Building after taxes.

A signal for sure: The Catholic Digest points out that when a man says he "car take it or leave it"—he has already had it.

Breaks Woman's Rib

There is a theory that as we get more crowded as people we prefer smaller pets and we are going into the era of "the apartment-size dog." My own observation is that persons in crowded quarters often try to express their freedom by having larger pets. I know of a lady who bought a Great Dane, and it once wagged a friendly tail to say "hello" and broke her rib. She had a doctor's bill to prove her story.

Who are they calling? A check by the Hotel Edison here found that women in hotels make more phone calls than men. It also found that women are harder to wake up in the morning.

You think today's highways are unsafe? In the Circus Maximus of ancient Rome dawn-to-dusk chariot races sometimes caused 50 deaths a day. And without the loss of a single pedestrian.

Our quotable notables: "If a man has good manners and is not afraid of people," said Sir David Leccles, "he will get by—even if he is stupid."

NEXT SEASON'S TV TO BE MUCH LIKE TODAY'S

By BOR THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What's in store for TV viewers next season?

A good man to ask is Tom McDermott. This bright fellow, who looks like a Madison Avenue Red Buttons, has been responsible for as many top shows as anyone in TV. First as TV buyer for a leading ad agency and now as seller for Four Star Productions, he has viewed the trends from both sides of the fence.

With the network programming pretty well set—sponsors do their fall shopping early—McDermott paints this picture of the 1960-61 season:

As Many Westerns
1. A sharp turn toward situation comedy.

2. Just about as many Westerns, but fewer new ones.

3. Slight decline of the private eye epics.

4. Fewer dramatic shows and specials.

5. Scant hope for more varied programming, including better public service shows.

Little Real Change
"The trend toward situation comedy shows is marked, but inexplicable," said the transplanted New Yorker. Four Star itself has at least two new ones, starring

11:35—Music Beyond The Stars
11:55—Inspiration Time
12:00—Sign Off

Peter Lind Hayes-Mary Healy and Tom Ewell, possibly another with Gertrude Berg.

McDermott conceded that the comedy trend may be to offset the growing criticism against violence on the home screen.

"Otherwise the congressional investigations and other criticisms of TV has brought little change in programming. If anything, the situation is worse today. The trend has been for the networks to gain more and more control over their shows. This creates more of a monopoly situation than before, so that three men virtually dictate what is seen on the nation's TV," he added.
